Japan Refuses Demand Made By Four Powers To Halt Mobilization

TOKYO, Feb. 4.—Japan tonight flatly refused to halt mobilization of her armed forces, as demanded by the four powers in their five-point peace proposal designed to end the Sino-Japanese conflict.

Japan's reply to the peace proposal, embodying this unqualified rejection of one of the terms of the suggestion, was handed to the British and American ambassadors by Foreign Minister Kenkichi Yoshisawa at 7 p. m. tonight.

Neutral Zone Likely.

In the reply, the Japanese government vaguely agreed to withdraw its armed forces from Shanghai on condition that Chinese troops fall back far enough from the city to forestall any further danger to the lives and property of Japanese nationals.

The suggestion for establishment of a neutral zone at Shanghai was accepted in principle, the government notifying the commander of the Japanese forces at Shanghai to negotiate with foreign consular officials for establishment of the zone.

Japan served notice once again that in any investigation of the present crisis in the far east, the situation in Manchuria and at Shanghai must be considered as separate and unconnected issues.

In the reply, Japan agreed to cease hostile acts only on condition

NEW ORLEANS, La., Feb. 4.—
Delta flood waters today centered their fury on the town of Colfax, isolated from the world, and facing danger of hunger and famine.

The town was submerged beneath a turbulent sheet of water. Hundreds of townpeople fled their homes to seek refuge outside the flood area or on the higher reaches of the vicinity.

Refuge camps have been established in the region to provide shelter for many homeless persons.

Serious Situation

On hills in or near the town some 200 families were marooned awaiting rescue, according to J. W. Duncan, Red Cross relief director, who said the situation is extremely serious. Duncan declared the refugees are in immediate need of food and clothing.

Flood waters in other sections of Louisiana today were reported to be at a standstill, minimizing the danger. Ten thousand people in various sections of the state have been rendered homeless during the past few weeks.

From Kentucky came reports of a rising Cumberland river, imperiling residents along its shores.

SANTIAGO, Cuba, Feb. 4.—A saddened populace today began the gigantic task of clearing away debris in the wake of yesterday's quake which, despite the extent of its damage, almost miraculously took only about a dozen lives.

Death toll was established at 12:
slightly higher as rescuers worked.
Several hundred persons were injured, although the majority but slightly.

The quake damaged about two thirds of the city's buildings and levelled nearly half of them. Damage was estimated at $10,000,000.

Deaths first were estimated as high as 1,000.

Doctors and nurses worked feverishly to administer aid to the injured. They were helped by a U. S.
destroyer which arrived with medical supplies.

The populace, bewildered with families broken up and homeless, pathetically attempted to establish temporary living quarters. Many had fled the city to the open fields in fear of further shocks.

Word came from Havana that President Machado had called a special session of the congress to pass a $1,000,000 relief bill for the wrecked city.

the burglar fired, one of the bullets ripping through his cheek. He re-

One of the bullets caught Campbell

WILMINGTON, Del., Feb. 4.—
Swept from the running board of a speeding automobile as she attempted to free herself from attackers, an unidentified girl, about 18 years old was instantly killed near here early today.

Death of the girl came at the end of the chase in which a would-be rescuer pursued the car for two miles. She had been held on the running board and when the automobile swerved to make a turn, she hurlled into an iron railing on a small bridge. Her body rolled down an eight-foot embankment.

"Save Me!"

Harry Schmidt, the girl's would be rescuer, told police he was driving along when he saw a parked car.
The girl broke loose from someone in the car and ran toward him shouting:

"Oh, save me. Please help me."
When a man emerged from the car, the terror-stricken girl went back to the machine. Her attackers held her on the running board and the car sped away. Schmidt followed. He said it appeared someone was holding the girl by her arms only. When the car swerved, she plunged off to her death.

Heavy Blizzard Sweeps Chicago

(International News Service)
CHICAGO, Feb. 4.—A blinding blizzard, first of the winter, paralyzed the Chicago metropolitan area today.

A heavy snowfall, driven by an icy gale sweeping across Lake Michigan, tied up traffic as thousands of workers were delayed on their way to their daily tasks.

The United States weather bu-southern Michigan. Bureau officials predicted that it would not become general, but stated there would probably be no cessation of the snowfall and wind along the Lake Michigan shore line today.

An eight-inch snowfall was predicted by government meteorologists.
Relief shelters and charity stations were stormed by men seeking shelter from the driving snow.

Urge Churches To Aid Coming Bi-Centennial

Programs For Various Occasions Have Been Prepared By Committee

TRINITY CHURCH ANNOUNCES SERVICE

Churches of Lawrence county may assist in a great way in carrying out their part of the huge Bi-Centennial observance of the birth of George Washington, which will get under way on February 22 here, General Chairman Walter S. Reynolds stated this morning.

Mr. Reynolds announces that an invitation has been received from Philip S. Pearson, pastor of Trinity Episcopal church to attend special services there on February 21. The committee in charge of the celebration is asked to be present on this occasion.

The service has been arranged, Rev. Pearson stated, because of the fact that George Washington was a member and an official of the Episcopal church.

Outlines of church programs for February 19, 20 and 21, have been developed by the United States Government George Washington Bi-Centennial commission, which can be obtained from the commission.

The committee of which Judge R. L. Hildebrand is chairman is working hard on the plans for the opening program which will take place in the cathedral on the evening of February 22.

Marcus Feuchtwanger, who is in charge of the boroughs and townships outside the city is also busy lining up many programs throughout the rural districts of the county, which will take place in the churches, schools, and grange halls.

Cars Stick In Mud After Contests At Plaingrove School

School Yard A "Mess" As Great Holes Are Dug By Rapidly Revolving Wheels

After the experience of Plaingrove citizens following a contest held in the consolidated school building last night, it is probable that some steps will be taken toward providing a suitable parking ground for automobiles.

Cars were parked last night on the school grounds, which had been rendered soft by recent rains. When the meeting was over the fun began.

Those who went for their cars sank into the mud, some of them over their shoe tops. When the cars were started the mud began to fly. Radiators, laden with alcohol, trembled as the rapidly revolving wheels sank deeper and deeper into the mud. Car owners, working with rails, boards and coffee sacks, were showered with mud.

It was long after midnight before the last car was extricated. The school grounds were a "mess". Even the bordering hedge was in some places torn out.

Following the experience of last night a movement is being footed to ash the grounds. Ashes could be secured at the coal mines and it is believed that donations of trucks and labor can be secured.

JAPAN REFUSES DEMAND TO HALT MOBILIZATION

China definitely puts a stop to the hostile acts of Chinese irregulars as well as regular troops.

The suggestion that hostile acts terminate immediately was the first point in the four-power peace proposals.

To the second proposal, namely that no further mobilization or preparation for further hostilities take place, Yoshisawa replied it was impossible for Japan to give any such undertaking "in view of the unreliability of the Chinese."

The third proposal, for withdrawal of both Japanese and Chinese combatants from all points of mutual contact in the Shanghai area, was found agreeable provided the Chinese withdraw first.

The fourth proposal, providing for protection of the international settlement by establishment of neutral zones to be policed by neutral forces, was also found acceptable in principle, but Yoshisawa pointed out Japan would prefer permanent guarantees for the protection of her nationals.

The fifth suggestion, proposing arbitration of all outstanding disputes between Japan and China with the aid of neutral observers or participants, was rejected flatly.

The four ambassadors who received the reply immediately went into consultation with Yoshisawa.

MELLON TO TAKE LONDON POST AS NEW AMBASSADOR

perience and judgment of the highest order. The importance to our country of the sound determination of these worldwide difficulties needs no emphasis.

"I have decided therefore, to call upon one of our wisest and most experienced public servants to accept a position which will enable him, after many years of distinguished service at home, to render equal service to this country in the foreign field.

Mellon Accepts

"I have asked Mr. Mellon to undertake the ambassadorship to Great Britain. I am happy to say he has now expressed his willingness to serve."

The president had for the past two weeks been trying to persuade the Pittsburgh financier to accept the post vacated by General Dawes, particularly because of Mellon's genius for finances, it was reported. With world economics in their present economic state and the delicate situation contingent upon European debts owing to the United States, Mellon's acceptance is looked upon with particular favor in Senate financial circles.

Mellon at first opposed President Hoover and insisted upon remaining at the treasury, chiefly because of his advanced age. He is 76 years old. Mutual friends insisted upon his acceptance and, argued, his sound health, and familiarity with European affairs, dating from the World War, made it imperative he should accept the call to the highest post in the American diplomatic corps.

Is Given Praise

Praised as the "greatest secretary of the treasury" since Alexander Hamilton," and vigorously denounced in the halls of Congress, Mellon has served under Presidents Harding, Coolidge and Hoover. He was appointed in March, 1921.

America's war debt of $26,000,000,000 has been reduced to $17,000,000,000 under the guidance of Secretary Mellon. Only one man, Albert Gallatin, of Pennsylvania, served a longer period in the treasury. He served for 13 years in the early years of the republic.

Secretary Mellon said affairs of the treasury are in such condition he could be relieved of his post, almost immediately without difficulty. Mills, who has been bearing the brunt of the work for many months is prepared to carry on as head of the department.

Hamilton, a member of the board of directors of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation, succeeded Gerard Winston, as an undersecretary, following a career in Congress.

ATTEMPT IS MADE TO WRECK TRAIN

along the siding before it struck the freight cars.

Neither O'Brien nor his fireman, R. W. Alexander, also of Erie was hurt. Alexander was slightly shaken in the impact.

Railroad officials called a local physician to the scene to take precautions against possible injuries to passengers. However, examinations disclosed that while some were pained, no minor injuries resulted.

Erie and Ashabula division headquarters here had its wreck train crew at the pottery within a short time after the accident, to separate the passenger cars from the damaged locomotive. Another engine was brought from the Cherry street roundhouse to replace it, and the regular crew continued on to Erie. Delay here, officials reported, covered slightly over an hour's period and the train, due in Erie at 10:20 p. m., arrived there 57 minutes late. It had left Pittsburgh at 6:10 and had departed from the New Castle West Side depot a few minutes past 7:36, its arrival time.

Investigation Opens

Pennsylvania and city police were concentrating their investigations today to determine who had tampered with the pottery switch.

Every indication pointed to it being a deliberate attempt to wreck

No. 475, Trainmaster F. J. Perry said. "The lock had been tampered with, the switch thrown and the signal light had been extinguished. Another factor that possibly prevented a more serious wreck was that No. 475 was running in low-speed territory at the time it struck the switch. It had left the depot here, where passengers were discharged and taken aboard, and then taken orders from the Glass House telegraph office, between the station and the Grant street crossing.

Under Slow Speed

As usual, the train proceeded under caution over the Grant street crossing and was picking up speed as the switch was neared. Officials estimated it was traveling at 20 miles an hour as the thrown switch deflected the locomotive off its course, but the speed had been checked to about five miles per hour before the impact occurred.

What leads Pennsylvania authorities to believe it was a deliberate attempt to wreck the train was that No. 455, earlier Erie train, had passed over the switch without trouble at 5:31 p. m. Her crew reported they saw nothing wrong.

J. H. Bragins, another Erie man, was conductor on the train.

Shenango Pottery company officials said the two box cars struck contained a miscellaneous shipment of China. The pottery was being transferred into other cars for shipment today. Box cars were to have been removed from the siding last night by a booster engine, they said, after No. 475 had passed.

The accident last night marks the first on local railroads in months.

The malicious attempt on the part of someone, railroads said, will bring a thorough investigation by both city and rail police. It is reported that one or two passersby saw a man prowling around the switch sometime before the wreck.

Highest Point In County Found Near Princeton

Several Points In Eastern Section Of County Are Over 1,400 Feet High

According to the topographic maps of the United States Geological Survey, which are available at the office of the Director of the United States Geological Survey in Washington, the highest point in Lawrence County is around 1,440 feet, and is located at a point approximately a mile and a half southeast of Princeton.

Many people are under the impression that Weller Hill along the Butler road is the highest point in the county, but the topographic maps show this point to be around 1,340 feet in height.

There are several points which are 1,400 feet in height or over in the county, all of them located in the eastern part of the county. Near the Jackson school along the Perry Highway in Washington township there is a point which is around 1,400 feet high, while there are several along the Butler county line in Perry and Slippery Rock townships which are 1,400 feet and over.

He fixed his eye on the girl steadily.

"Did you say that?"

"Apparently I did—if it's there," she said with resignation.

"But you said nothing of that yesterday!"

Fruit Growers Elect Officers

Plant Pathologist Tells About Apple Growing Conditions In District

Conditions that must be faced cheerfully by the county's apple growers who are engaged in one of the leading agricultural enterprises in this district, and scientific methods for combating plant diseases were discussed this afternoon at the 11th annual banquet and election of the Lawrence County Fruit Growers' Association, held in the Y. W. C. A.

Following the banquet in the green room, R. S. Johnston of New Wilmington, president of the fruit growers, introduced L. T. Dennison, State College plant pathologist, who addressed the gathering on "Apple Diseases and Their Control in Western Pennsylvania."

Officers for the forthcoming year were to be elected later in the afternoon to succeed Johnston, Carl Baldwin, New Castle, the vice president, and Charles Harbison, Slippery Rock township, secretary-treasurer.

MYSTERY BLAST ON OIL TANKER; THREE ARE DEAD

found along the river front as several members of the crew were still unaccounted for.

The Known Dead Are:

Captain Jos. Rivers, 40, Jamaica, L. I.

Stephen Marks, 28, of Philadelphia.

Roy Hamilton, 30, of Marietta, Ga.

Edward Russell, 35, Marcus Hook.

Edward Gielow, 32, Indiana.

Marks was pronounced dead upon admission to Crozer hospital.

Hamilton and Russell succumbed in Chester hospital shortly before dawn.

The Injured

The injured are in the Chester hospital. They include:

Mrs. Viola Rivers, wife of the captain, of Jamaica, N. Y., burns and shock, condition serious.

William Major, 34, Chester, burns, condition serious.

Lee McMahon, 27, Fostoria, Tex., burns, condition critical.

Olaf Rasmussen, 31, of Marcus Hook, burns, critical.

Only sketchy accounts were available this morning of the blasts which tore the tanker apart. Most of the survivors agreed, however, that fire followed the first blast and this resulted in a second explosion which hurled all aboard into the river or on to the pier nearby.

No one knows what really caused the first blast.

Tank Lets Go

According to some of the surviving members of the crew a "short crew" of the Sinclair Oil Company, which is reported to have chartered the tanker from the Sun Company, had gone aboard the vessel at midnight. They were pumping out the tanks preparatory to cleaning them before the next cargo was taken aboard. They had just opened No. 6 tank when it blew up. The second blast followed as members of the crew fought desperately to leap from the flaming ship.

The second blast, a most terrific one, which rattled windows and buildings over a 20-mile radius, came, however, before the men could leap free of the vessel.

Built in Baltimore in 1920, the tanker arrived here Tuesday with a cargo of oil from Texas. She had a gross tonnage of 7,050.

Thousands of persons gathered to watch the burning wreck and the rescuers at work. Residents for miles around were awakened by the detonation, which was heard also in Philadelphia.

Early today, the ship, split in half and listing at an angle of 45 degrees, was still blazing. Part of the dock, near which were stored large amounts of oil filled barrels, also was aflame.

The latest check-up of those on board the tanker when the first of the four terrific explosions shook her and tossed many of the men into the icy waters of the Delaware river reported 46 persons were on board at the time.

Of these, eight were members of the Sun Oil Company, owners of the vessel, which was cleaning the ship. The others included the captain, his wife, and members of the regular crew.

The first printed Bible was the Gutenberg Bible, the earliest book known that was printed from movable metal type. It was printed in Latin at Minz, 1452-1456 A. D.

WOMEN'S COMMITTEE OF PENN-OHIO DINES

Successful in every way was the banquet held in the Guild rooms of Trinity Episcopal church when the girls of the Pennsylvania Power company gathered for the purpose of organizing a Women's committee on Wednesday evening.

At the selected hour a delectable menu was served at tables beautifully decorated in tones suggestive of the seasons, grouped off designating the different months of the year, thus representing the birthdays of the guests. Lighted tapers and vases of choice flowers graced the table centers. Dinner music was furnished by a prominent orchestra.

Following the serving by a group of ladies of the church, Miss Mae Cummings, president of the committee presided over the remainder of the program. At this time Louis B. Round, vice-president and general manager, spoke fluently on the "Aims and Purposes of the Penn-Ohio Power company" and used illustrations. As the concluding number, an entertaining playlet entitled "Wanted—A Stenographer," was presented; the cast including Gladys Lewis, Mary Whalen, Marjorie Mitholland, Edna Longacre and Elizabeth Carlson. This was most appropriate to the occasion, and was well given.

The purpose of this organization is two-fold; educational and social, and is for the purpose of assisting women employees of the electrical industry in securing information concerning their business, etc.

The committee in charge of arrangements included Martha Dinsmore, Gladys Lewis, Mae Cummings, Myrna Hasely, Elizabeth Carlson, Ann Fowler, Dorothy McGoun, Edna Longacre and Marjorie Mitholland.

Special guests of the evening were Vice-president and General Manager Louis B. Round and wife; Secretary and Treasurer, O. E. Flora and wife; Miss Katherine Collins, president of the Women's committee of the Ohio-Edison company at Youngstown; O. P. G. Dingley, assistant to the general manager at Ruson; Moses, division manager at Ruson. Also, guests were present from Greenville, Sharon as well as from this vicinity.

THE IN-AND-OUTER

Nobody likes the in-and-outer. You can't tell where he is going to be next. He is always a nuisance and sometimes a peril, and in this last capacity he shows himself most frequently as a motorist.

The motoring in-and-outer is always in a hurry. He feels that he is more in a hurry than anyone else on the street. Of course, he probably is going nowhere in particular and will have nothing in particular to do when he arrives, but he is in a hurry.

So he darts out of line and cuts in. His safety depends on the other fellow's good brakes. Sometimes he gains as much as a tenth of a second at the expense of everybody else's comfort and peace of mind.

Experience proves that his rate of progress is not much higher than that of the orderly, decent, courteous driver. He dashes ahead and in and out across everybody's path from the first showing of the amber light. But he is held up by the red at the next important crossing. At the first intimation of a change of signal he blares his horn as a warning to the rest of the world to make room for him.

In the traffic of the city he marks his trail with bruised fenders and hub caps and ruined tempers. But in the country, where the speed limit is less exacting, he knows no limit, and there he too frequently signals his time-saving achievements by tragedy. The in-and-outer is responsible for more of the motor accidents than any other factor. His control and suppression form the biggest problem in the safety program.

CALIFORNIA LEADS IN GASOLINE TAXES

New York and California were the only states in the union with a registration in excess of 2,000,000 automobiles for 1930, the last calendar year for which final statistics are available. In 1931 California collected more than $41,625,000 in gasoline taxes, while Pennsylvania and New York, with two and three times California's population collected about $30,000,000 apiece. The New York rate is two cents a gallon and the California and Pennsylvania rate is three cents.

No doubt these several factors of difference help explain why California's tax has been so productive. It is also true that her border states exact four cents a gallon, thus saving her citizens from the practice of "filling up the tank" beyond the boundaries. If, in addition to these circumstances the California method of collecting the tax possesses any degree of efficiency over Eastern customs, the fact might be worth investigating.

PAYING TAXES ON THE INSTALMENT PLAN

It is interesting to note that the Village Board of Lynbrook, Long Island, has been considering the feasibility and desirability of permitting the payment of taxes on the instalment plan. Trustee Murphy goes so far as to urge that the taxpayers be permitted to make their payments by the week. The law at present calls for semi-annual payments; but in view of existing conditions it seems reasonable that easier terms should be made for the benefit of citizens who are anxious to keep up with their obligations. The ideal method, of course, would be for the property-owner to lay aside a sum each week or each month to meet his taxes when they are due. But unfortunately all men are not as forehanded as this in planning their affairs. Hence the suggestion for the weekly instalments.

There is no good reason why the methods of townships and municipalities should not be adjusted to meet abnormal conditions.

ALIMONY FOR MEN

A jobless Californian filed suit asking that his estranged wife be compelled to pay him $35 a week until he can get a job. He declares that she controls valuable property. The case has suddenly focused attention on the apparent trend toward equality of the sexes in the matter of alimony.

Judge Sabath of Chicago has granted 20 settlements in the past seven or eight years in which divorced wives are required to pay alimony to "disabled war veterans, tottering old men and matrimonial castoffs." He holds that a man sick and out of work is entitled to help from a divorced wife with property or an income, just as she would be helped by alimony from the man if the cases were reversed.

In 1927, California enacted a law requiring women to pay alimony under certain circumstances. Several women have been affected by it up to this time. Illinois has no such law, though Judge Sabath's rulings have held, and a number of ex-husbands are receiving a regular stipend from their former wives. Another judge has required a woman to send her husband, who is ill and unemployed, $25 from the rental of properties jointly owned.

A great many men would not want such payments, but there is obvious justice in the practice in some cases. Furthermore, it should help to curtail, if not end, the gold-digging activities of women who marry with early divorce and alimony in mind.

COURT ENJOINS HAND LABOR CONTRACT

The Utah Supreme Court has granted a writ prohibiting Salt Lake City from constructing a $600,000 storm sewer with a minimum wage on a hand labor basis. The plan to avoid machinery where possible, and thus increase relief for the unemployed, meant a substantial increase in the cost of the job. Since this margin was diverted to charity, the court denied its sanction. The programme was alleged to violate the constitutional restraint against spending money for purposes other than the intent of the appropriation.

Sometimes courts take a round-about way of reaching a simple conclusion. For a layman the question was whether muscular effort might arbitrarily be demanded on work for which machinery was available. The theory is an interesting one to which the present industrial situation has attracted renewed attention.

While commonly admitted that mechanical implements have greatly supplanted manual energy in our present economy, there is grave doubt that the process of a natural evolution can be reversed on any large scale or with any thought of permanently preventing a recurrence of the present difficulty. But the court side-stepped this aspect of the matter and rested its verdict on a legal technicality.

When in doubt levy a new tax.

That lame duck resolution in congress proved that lame ducks are for lame ducks.

All Of Us

People Look at You
What Do They See?
What Is in Themselves

Everybody that looks at you sees somebody else. Everybody sees what he is most interested in.

The beggar sees a man who may—or may not—be willing to give him a dime.

The tailor sees the fit of your clothes, the barber wonders who cut your hair, the skin specialist thinks one of his treatments might do you a lot of good, the physical culture man mentally speculates on how long it would take to put you in perfect shape again.

The salesman looks at you and sees a "prospect." The psychologist classifies you at once as an "introvert" or an "extrovert"—as one who lives within himself, as one who lives externally.

The dentist observes the shape of your jaw. The doctor notices your posture and your color. The man in charge of the complaint department sees another man with a grouch. The actor sees his "public" in you. The newspaperman sees a reader. The detective sees a law breaker. The street sweeper sees "one of those people who throw things in the gutter instead of in the refuse can."

The forest ranger sees a careless smoker. The pedestrian sees a reckless automobile driver. The man in the automobile sees a slow-moving pedestrian. The dog sees a man who may pet him—or kick him.

Your mother looks at you and sees the cunning little boy you used to be.

Your wife sees the man you used to be and the man you have become—careless, brooding, cheerful, timid, audacious, but perhaps (let us hope) still lovable.

Your children see a grownup who is lots of fun sometimes, but maybe too dignified at other times.

Every woman who sees you make a private judgment. So does every man.

You look in your mirror and you see a face that needs to be shaved entirely too often and a human being you never did quite understand.

And your God looks at you—and keeps his opinion to Himself. He, you hope, has not lost faith in you.

A merchant was told he had a month to live. He called in a lawyer and said:

"Fix it up so that my overdraft at the Bank goes to my wife, she can explain it. My equity in my car goes to my son. He will then have to work to keep up the payments. Give my good will to the supply houses. They took some awful chances on me, and are entitled to something. My equipment you can give to the junkman; he has had his eye on it for several years, and I want six of my creditors for pallbearers. They have carried me so long they might as well finish the job."

TRUE VALUE, IN DRESS
Don't make the mistake of classifying people according to their dress.

Some folk inwardly rebel if a poorly dressed person approaches.

They attribute good clothes to success.

They are more courteous to the well-groomed man or woman and slight the ones who are shabby.

Unfortunately there are many people who cannot get away from outside appearance in estimating the value of certain friends and acquaintances.

But often the person who wears cheap clothes pays for what he gets, while the more expensively dressed fails to pay his debts.

The former is more to be admired, but according to your standard of judgment, if you are in favor of the man who pays his debts, you are not giving him the sort of treatment he merits when you notice his clothes, to criticize.

Perhaps your judgment of people is based too largely on the "front" they put up.

Then often you are deceived as to true value.

But, since clothes do mean so much to some, in the scheme of things, it behooves a person to dress as well as income will permit.

The applicant for a position should be particularly careful to look tidy and clean but not expensively dressed.

The main traveled highways of the United States are now given over to trucks that assume the proportions of Ringling Brothers' big tent when an ordinary motorist endeavors to drive over the roads at night.

New York Graft Staggering
But Remedy Seems Lacking

Preliminary Report By Seabury Investigators Arouses Country But Doubt As To Probability Of Change In System Of Government Is Shown In Comments

New York corruption, as indicated by the preliminary report of the Seabury investigation, is declared by the country to warrant drastic remedies, but there is a strong opinion that an effective one will be hard to find. It is asserted that a majority of the voters supports the existing system which it is admitted seriously affects municipal finances.

"By his indictment of Tammany," says the NEWARK EVENING NEWS, "Mr. Seabury proves Tammany must go if New York is to have better government, but he offers no program for evicting it. Only the voters of New York can do that. They will do it when Tammany is replaced by a system that can inspire the fealties Tammany has inspired, but use them for the public good." The HARTFORD TIMES declares that "these cut-throat New Yorks will be skeptical that this is the beginning of the drawing of the Tiger's claws."

"It is history," according to the CLEVELAND NEWS, "that Tammany can stand a lot of evil disclosures which would be fatal to another political organization." That paper suggests, "There is the possibility that Seabury's committee may achieve no more than the punishment of sundry individuals, though developments to date argue that these will be of sufficient number to discredit, if not smash, the entire administration. Outside interest will follow the investigation closely. Good citizens the nation over will hope that it will succeed in cleaning up municipal New York. The nation's first city in size should be a model in government for its other cities. It seems within the committee's power to teach a lesson to be heeded outside the confines of New York City."

Charging that "the people of New York remain indifferent to the findings of the committee," the LINCOLN STATE JOURNAL observes that "there is no mass protest, no demand for the ousting of corrupt officials," and that "it seems likely that there will be no considerable protest at the polls."

"The present administration, at once bedeviled by politics and devoted to playing it for its own ends," in the opinion of the NEW YORK HERALD TRIBUNE, "has been utterly incapable of any real study of the vast task which it presides over. The Hofstadter committee, which has the resources and a staff for such a task, can make precisely that kind of study and can bring in consistent recommendations as to policy which would carry some weight. Unfortunately, however, though the Hofstadter committee does it this year, who will there be to do it next year and the year after? Adjusting the city's finances to its real resources is a continuous job: it is a job for the man of the very highest reputation and ability, and it is a job which can only be done at all by some free of political backgrounds, who can tell the politicians from one year to the next just what is economically possible to them. New York City needs a director of the budget who can really direct it."

"It has been apparent," says the ASBURY PARK PRESS, "that Tammany Hall indulges practices that would shock Croker and Tweed, but at each year's election we witness the deplorable phenomenon of Tammany Hall electing its henchmen by staggering majorities. How can an organization which can only be so corrupt, be tossed out of control in the world's greatest city? Even the energetic Judge Seabury cannot answer this. He has pointed the finger at graft but will the voters stamp it out? We fear not."

"The forces of resistance to reform," advises the CHICAGO DAILY TRIBUNE, "are highly organized and ruthless. They have tried and to a considerable extent they have been able to obstruct the full disclosure of conditions, and of course in the forefront of their propaganda is the charge—how familiar it is in such cases—that the inquiry is giving New York a black eye. A Tammany boss, member of the Seabury committee filing a dissenting report, asserts that 'there is something sinister, something cruelly unfair, about this investigation.' Corrupt power is using its usual tactics, appealing to false pride, to conceal its self-interest and unscrupulous self-interest against integrity and civic intelligence."

"The citizens of New York," thinks the MILWAUKEE SENTINEL, "are more disposed to admire than condemn. The grandiose proportions of the Tammany looting scheme seem to touch the self-interest. Only a minority are moved by righteous indignation to demand reform." Approving the plan to have the investigation continued, the MANCHESTER UNION points out that "the defeat in the legislature of those who have striven to hamstring the committee should have a helpful effect in bolstering up the courage of witnesses who have been afraid to tell the truth through fear of retaliation later."

Emphasizing the point that "power of Tammany is not restricted to New York," the SPOKANE SPOKESMAN-REVIEW makes the comment: "Seabury, counsel of the state committee, himself an independent Democrat, declared at New York that 'the low and sordid estate to which New York has sunk' was brought on by Tammany's graft and corruption. Mayor Walker and other beneficiaries of Tammany are squaring under the indictment of the legislative committee. From Mayor Walker's office came recently the weak report that the legislative inquiry was impairing city credit, a palpable attempt, as Attorney Seabury points out, to evade the responsibility for the city's financial condition, which must be attributed to 'wastage, graft and corruption with which the city is infested.'"

"Both New York and Chicago," charges the ROCK ISLAND ARGUS, "went broke because of rotten politics. The only hope for both cities is a new deal, with men in power who can be depended upon to carry out a program of absolute honesty and economy." The ROCHESTER TIMES-UNION remarks: "A change to the city manager form would entail a complete overhauling of the government, a tremendous task in a city so thoroughly dominated by one party. Nor would that alone give assurance of reform. Yet it has been evident for years that some change eventually must be made. The legislature ought to give Mr. Seabury's report thorough study, for it will require some such powerful agency to lift New York from the 'sordid estate' to which Mr. Seabury has shown it has fallen."

"The committee report," it is recognized by the BUFFALO EVENING NEWS, "goes beyond the summary of findings to come to some discussion of revision of the basic system of municipal government. Even Tammany voices have been turning public thought somewhat in that direction. It is hoped that Judge Seabury and his friends will not build too high hopes on the city manager plan and proportional representation. Under any plan of government corruption is the breaking of law. That cannot be corrected merely by adopting new laws. The first essential is to have higher standards of thought among those who administer the laws."

SONG OF DIFFICULTY
Oh, let us hold together through these days of stormy weather. Let us make a jest of hardship and a quip of carking care. Let's set our bonnets together and high memories of our losses.

And press forward to tomorrow with our heads up in the air. Let's not dwell too long on sadness, for in fretting much lies madness.

And, a gay heart, so they tell us, will a grieving heart outrun. Though to dreary tasks we buckle, let us do it with a chuckle.

Who can grin at Old Man Trouble has his battle partly won. Let's not make so much of trial and the need for self-denial!

Let us give up feeling sorry for ourselves and face about! Let's defy each dismal rumor with our native sense of humor!

Let us set bonfires together and we'll work this problem out! (Copyright, 1932, Edgar A. Guest)

Dr. Clendening Tells Of Aftermath Of Colds

By LOGAN CLENDENING, M. D.

Writers who address the public about the common cold are likely to let their subject run away with them.

In order to give point to their remarks they draw a lurid picture of the dreadful diseases which follow in what they call its "wake." With this foundation they are in a position to creak out the warning, "Avoid catching cold."

They conveniently omit to give any exact methods of avoiding the cold, except the ones your mother gave—"Don't get wet; don't get damp; don't sit in the draft." In other words, stay in the house and lock the doors all winter, neglect what business you've got left, and you will not have a cold.

Yet the Personnel Magazine in addressing its audience, which had one of the strongest reasons to adopt preventive measures—the economic one, that colds are the greatest cause of industrial absenteeism, concluded: "We have no practicable method of prevention and no satisfactory method of treatment of colds."

Such satisfactory methods of treatment as we have are those directed towards making the patient comfortable and which have been described in former articles this week.

As to the dangers of secondary diseases, pneumonia is the one most prominently mentioned. The work of Smillie and Caldwell, reported last year, indicated that if patients with colds exposed themselves to chilling, particularly on the fourth or fifth day of a cold, they were particularly likely to develop pneumonia. Pneumococci, the germs which cause pneumonia, develop very rapidly in the throats of patients with colds.

These observations are given for what they are worth, but I strongly doubt their validity. It is certainly advisable for the cold patient to avoid exposure on any day from the first to the seventh, and to that extent the advice is worth following. But surely it is common experience that probably the fourth day is by all odds the one when the patient is most likely to go out and risk the danger of being chilled. If any large proportion of these individuals developed pneumonia the death rate from that disease would be much higher than it is. Pneumonia is pneumonia; it may not show its signs for the first few days, but the suspicion is that if it "develops" from a cold it was pneumonia all the time. Other diseases such as sinus infection and middle ear disease and adenoid infection are more likely to be sequelae of colds. But here again is the possibility of a latent infection lighting up and being called a cold in its early stages.

QUESTIONS FROM READERS
K: "What causes light spots on my hands and arms? What can I do to remedy them?"

Answer: The condition is probably the disease known as Vitiligo or Leukoderma. The cause is unknown. It is usually considered to be hereditary and a family ailment. Many treatments have been proposed, the most successful of which appear to be the use of ultra-violet light and the injection of gold sodium thiosulphate in the veins.

F. T. S.: "I would like to know what causes dizziness."

Answer: Dizziness is the direct result of some disturbance of the semi-circular canals in the inner ear. Anemia causes it and this is the usual cause in cases of convalescence, which seems to be the case with this correspondent. It is also caused by the absorption of poisons, in constipation and from ear disease itself.

PILES

Piles are swollen veins which are sometimes broken in the lower end of your bowels. They may cause itching, stinging, burning and bleeding in the rectum. Don't let your piles run on until you must have a surgical operation. But do not treat them with harsh patent medicines, some of which require the use of hard rubber or metal tubes. For hard things should never be put into the tender rectum except upon the advice of a physician. Ask your druggist for Unguentine Rectal Cream. They bring the same blessed comfort to piles that Unguentine brings to burns and cuts. They are soft, pleasant and easy to put in. They quickly relieve the burning, itching, stinging, swelling, bulging piles and help to prevent infection in the rectum. Ask your druggist for Unguentine Rectal Cream by name and get what you ask for.

Three Leave Here For Youth Confab

Pennsylvania Young Men's Conferences At Altoona To Attract Many

Three young men from New Castle leave today for Altoona, Pa., to attend the fourth annual western and eighth annual eastern Young Men's Conference sponsored by the State Y. M. C. A. The three delegates are Linden Bruce, Don Huffman and Christ Clark.

This year's theme at the conferences will be: "Facing the Realities of Life." Sessions of the meeting will extend through Friday, Saturday and end Sunday. The event will begin with a banquet Friday, Dr. C. Wallace Petty, Pittsburgh, will bring the banquet message, the subject being the theme of the conferences.

Saturday morning after the election of officers for the coming year the conferences will be divided into five discussion groups.

The purpose of the conferences, to which Phalanx fraternity of New Castle will send its delegates, is to bring together representatives from Young Men's Clubs of the Y. M. C. A. as well as young men who are interested in the formation of such groups to study club problems and to get ideas that will make their clubs and work more effective in the different communities.

Among the speakers expected to address the young men will be Dr. Petty, J. E. Spruell, New York, on the staff of the National Council of the Y. M. C. A. who has taught the summer schools of both Silver Bay and Lake Geneva. He will act as conference leader, speaking to the groups Saturday and Sunday.

Another will be Philo C. Dix, state secretary of the "Y" of Pennsylvania. Another will be Winthrop G. Martin, New York state secretary of the "Y." J. M. Horner of Wilkes-Barre, who is largely responsible for the founding of Phalanx will also speak.

Almira Ladies Hear Program

Mrs. Rose M. Sloan, matron of the Almira Home, reports that the ladies of the home were most wonderfully entertained Tuesday evening when a group of young men came to the home and sang and played for them.

In order that the women in the upper floors, who were unable to leave their rooms, might hear the program an amplifier was placed in position and as the music rose, it was heard by every ear.

There were quartet numbers by Trevor West, David Jones, Ted Struttmaster and Willard McCown, and what pleased the women most were the Seth Parker numbers the quartet sang for them, as well as the request number.

Richard E. Johns sang two beautiful numbers and a number of piano selections were played by Russell Muder.

The women expressed their gratitude for the program and invited the group back at their convenience.

Dr. Galbreath Given Ovation By Students

(Special to The News)

NEW WILMINGTON Pa. Feb. 4

Dr. Robert F. Galbreath, new president of Westminster College was given an ovation by students and faculty members Wednesday at the first chapel assembly of the second semester. It was Dr. Galbreath's first appearance before the student body as president.

Dr. Charles Freeman, acting president since last spring, was in charge of the chapel period. Following the devotional period, Dr. Freeman then introduced Dr. Galbreath by saying, "Young ladies and gentlemen—the president of Westminster College."

Dr. Galbreath thanked the assembly for its enthusiastic ovation as he was introduced. He said, "I feel somewhat like some of you freshmen who are entering college for the first time. But I am taking a post-graduate course. I want to learn to know all the students and faculty members, and that will take study."

Dr. Galbreath continued by saying that tomorrow depends upon today and concluded by saying, "I shall, I know, enjoy working with all of you."

Paul's letter to the Ephesians 6:10

A cold does 3 things "Pape's" stops them all

A cold always affects you in at least three ways. Air passages are inflamed and irritated. Perspiration is checked. Bowels are clogged with acid wastes from the mucous discharge. So doctors say you must do three things to be rid of a cold. Pape's Cold Compound does all three! It reduces inflammation and swelling of the mucous membrane, it induces perspiration, opens the bowels. Chew one of these pleasant tablets and see how quickly nasal discharge stops; head clears, breathing becomes easy. See how that achy, feverish, weak feeling disappears. And "Pape's" doesn't stop with killing cold germs. It activates bowels and removes germs and acid wastes from the system. All drug stores—35c. Just remember "Pape's."

was then read by Dr. Galbreath as the scripture lesson. The new president then led in prayer.

Dr. Chas. Freeman made a number of announcements, and the first chapel assembly of the new semester was ended with a song.

Have you what is commonly called that Tired Feeling?

"I just can't go on"—how often you hear this. So often the reason is simple—that good body of ours has "run-down" under the strain of our way of living... pressure of work and worry. Those important precious red-blood-cells that mean so much to vitality become lowered in count... the hemoglobin percentage begins to fall and we wonder "what is the matter?" If this is your trouble, why not take steps to overcome it—remembering that a "tired feeling" may be a warning... so are pimples, boils and paleness. A general run-down condition means a lack of normal resistance to infection and disease. For generations S.S.S. as a tonic has been helping people gain New Strength, better health and happiness. Mail Pickup Device, Long Unused At Field, Is Sold

Finis was written today to the story of the airmail pickup machine. The device, for which its inventor and hundreds of enthusiastic observers at the first experiment conducted here had predicted a glorious future as a modern step by the U. S. Post Office Department, was sold at Bradford field for a few dollars by Constable Tom O'Brien of the township.

The ponderous apparatus which mystified hundreds of New Castle residents when it was brought here in the summer of 1930 will be hauled off the field to a junk pile.

Since Aug. 4, 1930, when the huge funnel-shaped contraption was tried out here with some measure of success, and then its use discontinued it had been left on Bradford field.

The 27-acre field on the Youngstown road owned by Charles Kelley, 19 South Greenwood avenue, was then under lease by D. Roy Bradford. Kelley said today that since last summer when the device had been on his field a sheriff's warrant attachment had been issued against Dr. Adams by the Tossell Bros. of Youngstown, structural steel workers, for a bill, allegedly for its manufacture.

Kelley claims that Dr. Adams could not be found after his experiment was tried out here, and the paper could not be served on him, but instead was handed to Bradford, who leased the field. Kelley said that Bradford gave up the field on July 15, 1931. The subsequent action of sale on a landlord's warrant relieved Kelley of the machine. It was sold to Hyman Aronson, junk dealer.

Many New Castleites can recall the trial of the device in New Castle. It marked the opening of airmail service by the local post office, and nearly everyone believed that the pickup device would prove an integral part of the plan of service.

On August 4, 1930, Pilot Scraggins, U. S. airmail pilot between Cleveland and Pittsburgh succeeded at the local field in carrying off the first sack of mail ever taken into the air by a plane in flight, according to the reports that were current after the demonstration had been made at the field. An extension line from the plane was pulled through a funnel, then a slot of the Adams device, caught hold of a bag of mail and yanked the bag out, while the plane was speeding at a rather low altitude.

Distinguished post office, city and county officials witnessed the feat. Among those present was F. E. Smith, assistant superintendent of railway mail service.

THE PARENT PROBLEM

Dr. Myers Discusses Life Mates

Students Take Serious Attitude Toward Problem

By GARRY C. MYERS, PH. D. Head Division Parental Education, Cleveland College, Western Reserve University.

I had just addressed the high school assembly of West Pittston, Pa., on "Learning to Be Lovable," when the superintendent of schools said, "I wish you would meet my class of seniors the next period. It is the only opportunity I have to meet the high school students in a classroom. We call the course citizenship. Although it offers no credit, we believe it is worth while. For some time we have been considering together a number of the vocations. We have agreed to take up today the problem of choosing a life's partner, and I wish you would teach the class."

I accepted the invitation, though I had considerable misgivings concerning my ability to do well.

When I was presented to the class I found it included boys and girls. I asked myself: "What will be the attitude of these adolescents toward this subject? What effect will the presence of both sexes have upon the response by each?" Soon I was set at ease. These young folk were serious and earnest. They took a grown-up attitude toward the discussion.

Something like the following I said to them: Rightly and properly, all of you have already given some thought to a life partner. You all know that it is the normal thing to hope to choose a life mate by and by. As we are all looking for genuine, lasting happiness, nothing can mean so much to contribute to such happiness or to take away from it as this choice.

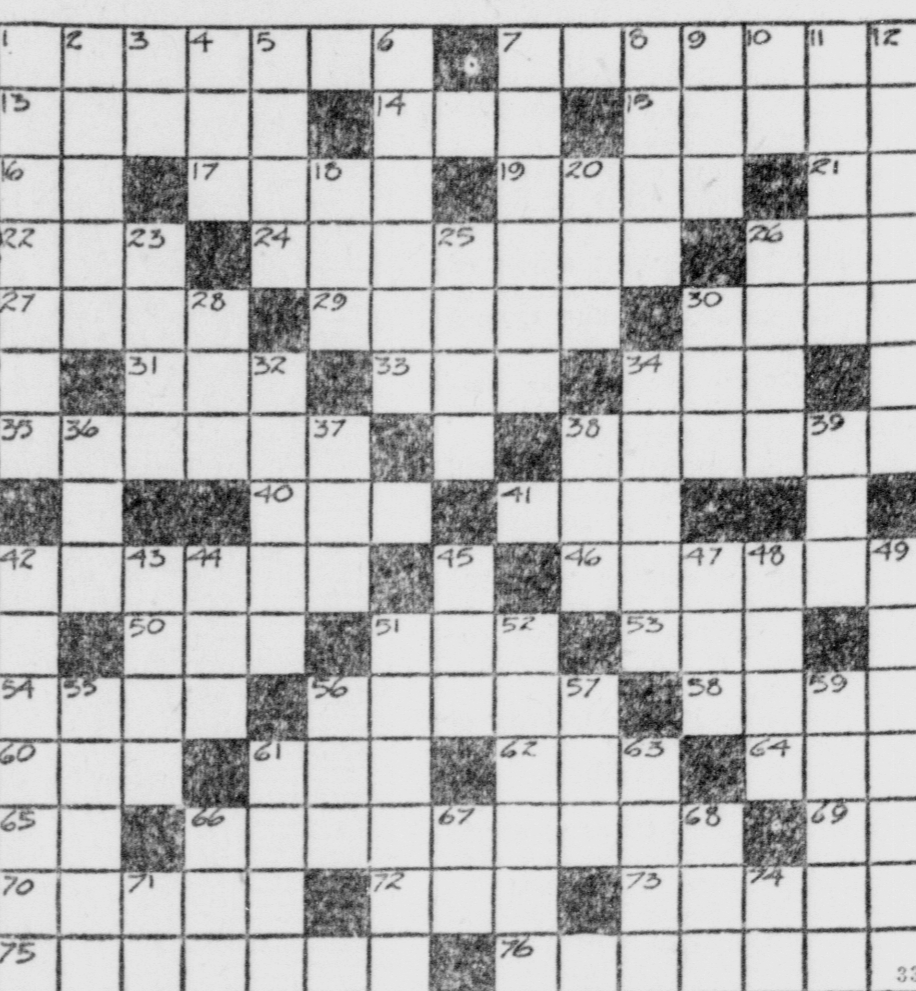

Assuming that you are looking for lasting happiness, you will think about these matters in terms of a life-time. That home partnership is happiest which is entered in for permanence. They marry well who marry to stay married, first making sure in their own mind that they are suited for life partnership, then resolving to make the necessary self-denials to get along happily with the chosen mate.

At best, some of us will make some mistakes, but your chances of avoiding mistakes will depend upon how intelligently you view the matter now and guide your choices and conduct.

Just remember, my young friends, that after you are "deeply in love" you are not capable of reasoning much about each other. Do your reasoning first. Do it now. Make up your mind about a few principles which are going to guide you. Remember that close friendship between a boy and girl has love and marriage possibilities. So far as possible, seek, therefore, only the company of the girl or boy you would be willing to have as a life partner.

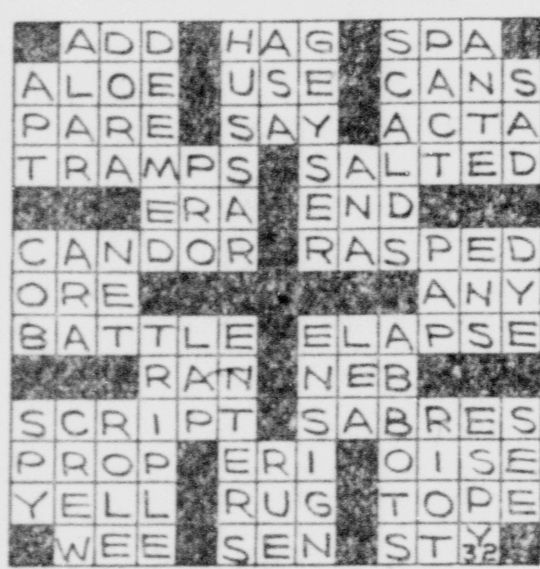

In order to marry happily, your life partner will have to be healthy. Since marriage normally will eventually mean children, you are concerned that the family of your partner-to-be shall be healthy mentally and physically. Ask yourself if, when married, your family and your partner's family would be congenial,

Answer to Previous Puzzle

whether you could warmly welcome them in your home and be welcome also in their home.

Looking for happiness, you are not going to marry someone who greatly differs from you in respect to religious training. Will you be congenial? Will you find satisfaction in each other's companionship, always discussing things of common interest to think about and talk about, so that, as you grow old together, you might grow more companionable together, more devoted to each other? Remember that mere outward beauty will fade. Only inward beauty and charm developed from within can endure.

My brief talk provoked a number of questions from these thoughtful folk and, a good deal wiser, I left them, carrying with me a more charitable attitude toward modern youth. Some of my adolescent friends reading this article may have some question they would like to ask. Happy would I be to try to answer them. Letters by those who ask for a personal reply are not published, but are answered personally.

State Pays Part Of Transporting School Children

Contributes $1,337,575 To Counties During School Year

HARRISBURG, Feb. 4.—Sixty thousand children are transported daily to the public schools of the Commonwealth, according to an announcement today by James N. Rule, Superintendent of Public Instruction. Transportation is mandatory only where schools have been closed since 1907, for those pupils belonging to the school closed and who reside more than one and one-half miles from the school to which they are assigned. School districts may, however, provide transportation whenever deemed advisable. Parents whose children must walk along highways where the traffic is great are coming to realize that transportation is safer than walking, Rule said.

The average cost of transportation to consolidated schools is 18 cents per day. In some districts where conditions are more favorable, the cost is as low as 9 cents per day. Better roads and three-year contracts have made a marked improvement in the last three years in the type of conveyances used and the cost has been reduced.

Vehicles must be safe, comfortable and provided adequate seating capacity. The driver must observe regular time schedules and must be of good moral character. The contractor must satisfy the school board of his financial responsibility. This includes liability for injury to children.

Payment Basis
The Commonwealth reimburses the districts for State approved transportation to the amount of 50 per cent. of the cost, not to exceed $3000 per year of the true valuation per teacher exceeds $100,000. It pays 60 per cent. of the cost if the true valuation per teacher is between $50,000 and $100,000. If the valuation is below $50,000, the State reimburses to the extent of 75 per cent. of the cost. The maximum paid by the State is $4,000 in the two preferential classes.

WANT TO LOOK YOUNG?

The secret of keeping young is to feel young—to do this you must watch your liver and bowels—there's no need of having a sallow complexion—dark rings under your eyes—pimples—a bilious look in your face—dull eyes without sparkle. Your doctor will tell you ninety per cent. of all sickness comes from inactive bowels and liver.

Dr. Edwards, a well-known physician in Ohio, perfected a vegetable compound as a substitute for calomel to act on the liver and bowels, which he gave to his patients for years.

Workers who are putting on the campaign for $15,000 for the use of the Mayor's Relief Fund are out today endeavoring to bring the report of Friday noon as near the total as it is possible to do. If the work of the Mayor's Relief Committee is to function as it should, the $15,000 asked for must be raised. From this will come the money to buy groceries and clothing for the needy and because the fund was about exhausted, this campaign was deemed necessary.

trating their fire on the Chinese railway at Chiungwan, midway between Shanghai and Woosung.

One thousand Chinese troops, assigned to the Woosung garrison, who were forced to evacuate their positions when an aerial bombardment reduced their barracks to shambles, retired to Chiungwan and entrenched themselves.

Japanese marines who were landed at Woosung after the bombardment, however, failed to follow up their advantage, and returned to their warships after ascertaining guns of the ancient fort were completely out of action.

Retirement of the Japanese gave Chinese military leaders an unexpected opportunity to rush artillery batteries behind the ruined fort. Fires spread through the beleaguered Chapei area, sweeping along a frontage of about four miles. From observation posts along the international settlement boundary more than twenty separate fires were easily distinguishable, the largest being at the North Station, which was turned into a roaring furnace.

Watch-tower observers reported seeing frequent flashes in the direction of the mouth of the Whangpoo, confirming reports that Japanese warships were participating in the furious bombardment.

Shanghai, Feb. 4.—4:32 p. m.—Japanese forces launched a terrific attack on Shanghai today, directing a dual fire on the battle torn Chapei section and the North Station, and on the Woosung Fort area at the mouth of the Whangpoo river.

The heaviest guns Japan has yet used on Shanghai went into action in a general artillery and machine gun bombardment. The Chinese replied feebly with smaller pieces.

Japanese airplanes, engaging in a new form of attack, the dropping of incendiary bombs to set fire to Chinese properties, gave the international settlement the most serious menace it has yet met.

One bomb struck a Chinese house within the settlement boundary, and it burst into flames immediately. Municipal firemen fought valiantly to localize the blaze, which threatened to spread among other Chinese dwellings within the settlement.

Under cover of heavy firing on the Woosung Forts, a party of Japanese marines landed and advanced to the forts. They did not occupy the forts immediately, withdrawing on learning the Chinese guns there were out of action and harmless. The forts were demolished in yesterday's attack.

It was reported the Japanese warship shelled the Chinese railroad at Chiungwan, midway between Shanghai and Woosung.

Japanese planes inflicted terrific damage on their newest attack on the North Station area, adjoining the international settlement.

Japanese headquarters reported two companies of their marines were trapped by Chinese behind the Rokusuan Gardens, at the northern boundary of the settlement. The marines went out on a sortie expedition and were unable to return.

No Battleship Sinking
Foreign sources united in declaring yesterday's report of the sinking of a Japanese battleship was false.

While Japanese officials called the report "ridiculous," others who saw the battle declared the Chinese gunfire was very feeble and that no shells were seen to fall in the vicinity of the Japanese ships.

Japanese marines evacuated their posts within the American sector of the international settlement, which, United States marines took over. The Japanese also withdrew from the British sector.

The Japanese aerial bombardment was going full blast at two o'clock this afternoon, eight hours after it started, in conjunction with the artillery fire. The Chinese counterfire also had been under way for eight consecutive hours.

Japanese marines were hampered by the weather and consequent poor visibility from determining the exact location of all the Chinese firing batteries. They tried to do this by sound.

One unusual side battle, also in its eighth hour at 2:00 p. m., was between a Chinese armored train and a Japanese destroyer. The armored train approached the destroyer from the North Station this morning, when the destroyer opened fire.

Japanese officials said the attack on the Woosung forts was for the purpose of clearing the river for navigation to and from Shanghai.

Spotlight Will Be Turned Upon Phoenix Playboy

"Happy Jack" Halloran,
Phoenix Playboy Will Be Revealed In Court

CONTEND RUTH
JUDD JEALOUS

State Hopes To Show
Through Noted Coast
Alienist That Ruth
Judd Is Sane

(International News Service)
PHOENIX, Ariz., Feb. 4.—"Happy Jack" Halloran, "romantic idol and cocktail playmate" of Winnie Ruth Judd, was in the spotlight today as the state continued its grim task of attempting to send pretty Mrs. Judd to the gallows for the double trunk murder.

How Halloran, wealthy Phoenix playboy, entered the queer twisted life of Mrs. Judd and the two women, Agnes Ann Leroy and Hedvig Samuelson, the state contends Mrs. Judd killed, was to be related by Dr. Joseph Catton, noted Stanford University psychiatrist, called by the prosecution as an expert witness.

May Soon Reach Jury
County Attorney Lloyd Andrews said the state hoped to show through testimony of Dr. Catton that Ruth was normal and should be hanged for the killing of Mrs. Leroy and Miss Samuelson, whose mangled bodies were shipped in trunks from Phoenix to Los Angeles.

Halloran has never been accused of any connection with the strange case, but his name was mentioned by state's witnesses, who swore that Mrs. Judd told them jealousy over Halloran caused a rift between her and the two trunk victims.

Alienists held the center of the legal stage for the fourth day. Tomorrow is Arbor Day, a holiday in Arizona, and the trial will be resumed Saturday, when the case may go to the jury.

Mrs. Judd was closely guarded, both in and out of the courtroom, to prevent another emotional outbreak. She showed her displeasure at the testimony of Dr. Paul Bowers, another state's alienist, by kicking and shoving him in a crowded hall.

HOW IT OPERATES

Receipts to the mayor's relief fund took a big jump today as contributions began pouring in from the campaign now under way. Treasurer L. W. McClung reported receipts today of $1,028.75.

While most of this was received from the campaign inaugurated Monday, some of the money was in payment on pledges which had been made when the relief committee was organized last fall.

One of the finest organizations for administration ever worked out here has been in charge of the distribution of relief under the mayor's relief committee.

Under the plan which was worked out last fall, the Associated Charities acts as a clearing house for all applications. The family record of the applicant is taken and turned over to the Associated Charities where it is kept on file. If someone asks for assistance, the central committee can tell by looking up the applicant's name just what his circumstances are.

In addition, the Associated Charities gives out cards for food and clothing. The Red Cross takes care of all ex-service men and their families under the plan, issuing work cards for those able to work.

No Duplication.
Transients are taken care of by the Salvation Army and Rescue Mission, while in addition to this, they take care of the distribution of soup and milk.

There is practically no chance for any of those who are being helped by the mayor's relief committee to secure help from any other agency in the city, unless it would be from an individual. This is illustrated by the fact that one man took out a work card on December 22, and held it until January 30, during which time he found none of the other organized relief associations nor the county would give him any assistance until he had fulfilled his obligation by working for the assistance being given.

When an applicant applies for assistance, he is investigated and if found worthy, a work card is issued to him. He is then expected to give one day's work a week for the aid rendered. He can draw one order in advance, but if he fails to show up for work, he does not get any more help until he has fulfilled his obligation to the committee.

Buy Food Wholesale.
All food is purchased at wholesale prices, and distributed in an economical manner. To date, the committee has operated on about $3,000, and has furnished clothing, food and soup to the unemployed of the city.

Approximately 2,500 individuals and family heads are on the files of the committee, who have received help in some form or another since the committee began functioning; either from the mayor's committee or from the county.

Senate Moves Toward Substituting $750,000,000 For LaFollette-Costigan Bill

DEMOCRATS ARE BADLY SPLIT UP

Debate Which Has Lasted All Week Be Climaxed Friday

By WILLIAM K. HUTCHINSON
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Feb. 4.—With Democratic ranks shattered by dissection, the Senate today moved toward substituting a $750,000,000 compromise government aid bill for the LaFollette-Costigan bill, appropriating $375,000,000 for direct relief of the unemployed.

Action of Democratic senators who were supporting the direct bill in the Senate today was shattered by dissection, the Senate today moved toward substituting a $750,000,000 compromise government aid bill for the LaFollette-Costigan bill, appropriating $375,000,000 for direct relief of the unemployed.

Leaders Fearful Democratic leaders who helped draft the substitute were harassed by a fear that passage of the LaFollette-Costigan bill would stamp their party as "sponsors of the dole" with dire effects in the 1932 presidential campaign. Consequently, led by Senator Robinson of Arkansas, their floor leader, they fought the direct relief bill bitterly.

The debate, which has lasted all week, may reach its climax tomorrow when a vote is expected on the substitution. Unless all signs fail, the substitute measure will be adopted.

"The LaFollette-Costigan bill is a measure to bribe the people into contentment," said Senator Black (D) of Alabama, who helped write the substitute.

Republican Silent "In the face of human need" replied Senator Costigan (D) of Colorado, co-author of the direct relief bill, "there are senators who resort to hair-splitting. A nation that can send its sons to death over something in life."

Republican ranks were silent. Democrats doing most of the debating. A group of insurgents will support the direct relief measure, since Senator LaFollette (R) of Wisconsin is one of its authors. The great majority of Republicans will vote for the Democratic substitute.

Pomona Grange Gives Attitude

Donates To Relief Fund And Stands For Sabbath Observance

Representing the spirit of the farmers of Lawrence County with regard to Sabbath observance and aiding the needy and hungry, the following resolution from the Pomona Grange is self explanatory:

Resolutions adopted by the Lawrence County Pomona Grange held at New Wilmington on February 3, 1932.

Inasmuch as the Mayor of New Castle has recently permitted the theatres of the city to operate on Sunday in violation of the state law and contrary to the religious scruples of the majority of the citizens of New Castle and vicinity and since the above action was taken under the guise of public charity, be it

Resolved that we first, go on record as most heartily disapproving of commercializing the Sabbath Day and protest any direct or indirect effort to desecrate the Sabbath or to modify or repeal the law that protects it.

Second—That we restate one of our essential principles, namely, to "dispense charity" and that we do that which is possible by "feeding the hungry, helping the fatherless and the widow," to aid those who are unemployed or in need, and to exemplify the spirit of true neighborliness at all times and

Third—That with the understanding that the theatres of New Castle are to be closed on Sunday and in order to support the worthy work of the Mayor's Relief Committee, that we appropriate $25.00 at this time to the Mayor's Relief Committee of New Castle as an expression of our mutual interest and concern.

CHINESE NAMES

Note: Charles P. Stewart, Central Press' Washington correspondent, spent several years in China. His familiarity with Chinese cities and nomenclature should be helpful to readers.

Geographical nomenclature enters largely into the designations of Chinese cities and provinces and a little knowledge of the terms employed is helpful in finding on the map some of the more important spots referred to in dispatches dealing with the present disturbed state of affairs in the war-torn republic.

The points of the compass are: Pe — north. Nan — south. Tung — east. Si — west.

Thus Peking (renamed Peiping by the Nationalists in 1928) means "northern capital—"king" meaning capital. The significance of Nanking is "southern capital."

The province of Shansi is "west of the mountains"—"shan" meaning a "mountain chain."

Shantung—the province and peninsula—is "east of the mountains."

"Kow" is "mouth." Thus the city of Hankow is at the mouth of the river Han.

The translation of Shanghai is "city near the sea."

The term "fu" means "a person in charge of something," or "the seat of a person in charge of something" and is added to the names of provincial capitals—as "Chifu."

Shanghai originally was a place of small importance, and frequently is spoken of as having been "not even a 'fu' city," when foreigners were given treaty rights in its neighborhood.

States Agree On Program Of Clean Streams

Pennsylvania, Ohio, And West Virginia Enter Into First Agreement

ELEVEN STATES
NOW IN ACCORD

(Special To The News)

HARRISBURG, Feb. 4.—The original Ohio River Interstate Stream Conservation Agreement was entered into between the Health Departments of Pennsylvania, Ohio and West Virginia, for the purpose of cooperating in an effort to solve the matter of stream pollution as it existed in the drainage basin of the Ohio river, situated in each of the three states, said W. L. Stevenson, chief engineer of the health department of Pennsylvania, in addressing the American Institute of Chemical Engineers.

"Its terms are general, not specific as to degree of treatment of pollution. The value of this agreement was so evident that soon the state health board of Kentucky sought, and was granted admission. Subsequently the health departments of New York, Maryland, Indiana, Illinois, Tennessee, Virginia and North Carolina were admitted to membership."

ship, and these 11 states constitute the signatories to the agreement.

"Under the agreement so signed, the chief engineer of each state that is party to the paper, becomes a member of the 'Ohio River Board of Engineers,' which meets annually in different cities along the river to prepare policies for the conservation of that stream, and its tributaries, for the protection of the public water supply, and for exchange of data on work in the 11 states concerning water supplies, sewage, and industrial waste treatment and like matters of common interest."

"In the interim between these meetings, the members of the board are constantly cooperating with each other on interstate stream problems. As new ideas are developed or processes tried and found to succeed or fail in one state, its members of the board send a statement thereon to the other members. Thus all profit by the discoveries of any one of the membership."

"Thus it is seen that while the Ohio river drainage basin includes 11 states, through the amicable functioning of the board, many problems are met as though this great river was an intrastate stream," concluded Mr. Stevenson.

Special Music Is Featuring The Evangelistic Services At Central Christian

Every night sees a big crowd of people in attendance at the evangelistic services now in progress at the Central Christian church with the pastor evangelist, Charles Warren Johnston, at the pulpit.

Last night the sermon topic was "The Trifler" and Pastor Evangelist Johnston handled it in such a manner as to make all see some interesting new angles in regard to religion and every day life.

There was special music by the choir of 30 voices directed by David Lewis. A special feature of the evening was a solo, "The Lord is My Light," sung by Charles Ward with Elmer Fry as accompanist. A baptism was held following the regular service.

This evening the sermon topic is "The Drifter." In addition to the music by the choir there will be special numbers by a male chorus from the Second Baptist church.

Child Escapes Injury As He Falls In Street

Breaks Away From His Sister And Runs Away Into Street

Edward V. Bevan of 901 West Clayton street, was enroute north on North Liberty street, and making a left turn to go west on West Madison avenue Wednesday, when a small child, Claude Tommelio, aged 3, broke away from his sister, who was standing on the corner, and ran into the street, falling to the ground as he did so. In spite of the fact that it looked as if the child might have been struck by Mr. Bevan's car, such was not the case.

Mr. Bevan took the child to his home on Clayton street and the parents declined the services of a physician, as there was no indication of the child being injured.

Bessie E. Mowry of 608 Wayne avenue, Ellwood City, reported Wednesday to the police that she was enroute west on Washington street, when a car driven by Scott W. Gray of R. D. 1 ran into and damaged her machine.

John Russo of 16 South Wayne street reported that he was enroute east on East Home street when his machine hit and injured a small white dog. A boy carried the dog away before Russo could get out to find whose it was or how badly it was hurt.

ELECTRIC DIVINING ROD OPENS RICH GOLD MINE

SKELLEFTEA, Sweden, Feb. 4.—Thanks to the new electric divining rod by which engineers literally listen out the presence of minerals, some of the world's richest gold bearing ore has been located in what was formerly the pasture lot of a rundown farm near Boliden.

Now a model village has been built at the mine and a smelter set up. A railroad line, built by the government, connects the two and this spring operation will be in full blast. From 600,000 tons of

National Farm Outlook

By ARTHUR H. JENKINS
Editor, The Farm Journal
Written for Central Press

Long before the rubber-tree plantations in the East Indies tried to improve the price of rubber, and long before the present glut of raw sugar made itself felt, Brazil was wrestling with the problem of surplus coffee.

Indeed, the history of coffee troubles goes back at least as far as 1870, and for the last 60 years Brazil has been struggling along, trying one scheme after another to keep coffee in a profitable basis.

We have no crop exactly like this in the United States. Perhaps cotton comes as close to it as any commodity. But it is very instructive to observe what Brazil has done, why its various schemes have broken down, and what that nation is trying to do now.

The early plans tried to hold back coffee in Brazil, storing it in government warehouses, and borrowing money to carry it until markets improved and the surplus could be worked off. That failed, because the coffee planters went joyfully ahead, but in more trees, harvested all the coffee they could, and dumped it on the government to take care of.

Not only that, but other countries were also stepping up their coffee production, and selling it at prices that Brazil refused to meet. Brazil's ancient coffee monopoly was slipping away from her, and something had to be done.

We had a glimpse of Brazil's new policies a few months ago when the South Americans traded a million or so bags of coffee for Federal Farm Board surplus wheat. But they are doing more than that. Taking the bull by the horns, the Coffee Council is systematically destroying surplus coffee of the lower grades. Some is burnt, some is dumped at sea, which ever is cheapest. More than 3,000,000 bags have been destroyed so far.

Better still, they are working on a process by which low-grade coffee may be made to produce illuminating gas, to be used for lighting and cooking. If this can be done on a profitable or break-even basis, the problem is solved.

Above all—and this is the lesson for some of our amateur farm economists here at home—Brazil has learned from bitter experience that a surplus can't be "stabilized." If a crop is profitable enough, more and more of it will be produced, just as long as it can be sold. If the price is too high, competitors will get your market. If there is a surplus, there is no better way to handle it than to burn it and charge the loss back to the growers.

Of course we cannot and will not adopt this drastic remedy in handling our own surplus crops. Imagine the howl that would go up if we had a nice big bonfire and burned ten million bales of cotton and two hundred million bushels of wheat. And yet it is a good bet that farmers and the whole nation would be better off if we did exactly that.

Phalanx Men Fete Bosses At Dinner

'Y' Fraternity's Innovation Last Night Success; Rounds Is Speaker

Playing host to their employers, members of the New Castle chapter of the Phalanx, Y. M. C. A. young men's fraternity, entertained at a "Boss' Night" dinner and program in the Elks club last night. Twenty-eight bosses, guests and members attended.

A delicious dinner was served to the group at 7:15 o'clock, following which came a program of music and speeches.

Elroy C. Lockley officiated as an able toastmaster, welcoming the guests to the chapter's first dinner for bosses. He introduced Louis B. Round, vice president of the Pennsylvania Power company and president of the city's Rotary club, who was the evening's chief speaker.

Mr. Round delivered an interesting illustrated message that showed by chart that New Castle is entering a new era of growth and expansion. It was a timely address.

Special musical numbers were contributed by W. O. "Red" Williams, in vocal solo form, and Paul Alford, who contributed a trumpet selection. Williams led the pep singing in his inimitable way and Judy Sypher, local pianist, accompanied all numbers.

Phalanx' aims and objects were outlined by Bruce Ewing, president of the chapter.

At the conclusion of the program, the men adjourned to the club's drawing room while card tables were rearranged in the dining room. Many remained to enjoy this diversion. Arrangements for the night affair were handled by the committees of which Michael Bowden and Chris Clark were chairmen.

PENNSYLVANIA POWER COMPANY

Cheap Electricity and Lower Prices for Electrical Work give you a rare chance to put new Comfort and Con- venience into your Home . . .

In many homes furniture arrangement is decided, not so much by personal desires as by the location of electric outlets.

The davenport goes here, the easy chair there, because there HAPPENS to be an outlet that can be reached by the lamp cords. Other places are left in semi-darkness—or reached by extension cords, run festoon-like over doors and mouldings.

A few new electric outlets in your home cost surprisingly little and add much to the convenience of your electrical system. They MODERNIZE your wiring, and enable you to rearrange your furniture, decorate with lamps or use your appliances in complete accord with your own ideas of just how comfortable and convenient you would like your rooms.

MY NEW YORK

BY JAMES ASWELL

By Central Press.
NEW YORK, Feb. 4.—Marginalia of a Manhattanite. It's odd how the sunlight can be in Fifth avenue on clear days. . . . Maybe it's the top hats. . . . Saw Bert Lytell in one of those other morning. . . . What is it about Bert's mouth that's unforgettable? . . . Weakness or strength, as the physiologists term such quirks? . . . I can never remember exactly how Miriam Hopkins looks either, ten minutes after I have seen her.

How quickly even best-selling novels get out of print! . . . Tried to locate one of Scott Fitzgerald's books the other day, but none of the big book stores could find it. . . . Somerset Maugham said that it didn't matter much what any author said because his volume was utterly dead in 90 days at the outside.

Philip Barry's new play, "The Animal Kingdom" is a smash. . . . Ward Greene, who wrote "Weep No More," just out, said yesterday morning, "I don't see why the critics took Barry's play with such long faces. . . . It's just the old table, presented with charm, of the husband, the wife and the other woman." Aren't they all?

SUCCESS
It was after the last supper show this side of Harlem had closed, in one of the eating places where the Broadway crowd gathers. The paragraphs were there in force, and so were the major and petty racketeers. Some of the Park avenue crowd were sprinkled about, and showgirls who didn't care about sleep, which it would be impossible to get enough of now and make the matinees this afternoon.

A thin, pasty-faced young man with a hurt look in his eyes paused at our table and spoke to the theater man with me. Briefly, and then went on. My companion shrugged: "Just a hanger-on, a chiseler, a dead-beat. He could be one of the best boys in the racket, but he's got an idea he wants to be an architect. Wasting his time at night school and bumming meals off of big-time night club owners, who used to have hopes for him."

Again, maybe he's the smartest of them all.

CANDID CAMERAMAN
It is well known that Bobby Jones, world's only quadruple golf champion, just won't stunt for the camera. He'll walk, putt or point, but he refuses to fake scenes or be guilty of the slightest publicity posing. If this peculiarity is as true as reported, Bobby is very nearly unique in it.

It happens that he is president of the Augusta National Golf club, which is building his "ideal" course at Augusta. Recently, during a warm day in January, Bobby was on a tour of inspection of the course, followed by a determined photographer, one Mr. Tony Sheehan.

For several hours Sheehan had tried to grab some unusual shots of Jones. The idea was to catch him in a different posture—anything with a kick. They chased over gullies, fallen trees and rough country, until the bulb-squeezer could stand it no longer. His collar melted, he puffed and perspired.

At length, he collapsed neatly beneath the shade of a pine, going out like a light. When he regained consciousness, he learned that Bobby Jones was standing over him as a fan, and that by his side was the noted Scot golf architect, Dr. Alister McKenzie.

He had missed the Bobby Jones picture of his life!

growing sluggish; also to guard against auto-intoxication.

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE— WITHOUT CALOMEL

And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rarin' to Go

If you feel sour and sunk and the world looks punk, don't swallow a lot of salts, mineral water, oil, laxative candy or chewing gum and expect them to make you suddenly sweet and buoyant and full of sunshine.

For they can't do it. They only move the bowels and a mere movement doesn't get at the cause. The reason for your down-and-out feeling is your liver. It should pour out two pounds of liquid bile into your bowels daily. If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the bowels. Gas builds up your stomach. You have a thick, bad taste and your breath is foul, skin often breaks out in pimples, itching, aches and you feel down and out. Your whole system is poisoned.

It takes those good, old CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS to get these two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up." They contain wonderful, harmless, gentle vegetable extracts, amazing when it comes to making the bile flow freely. But don't ask for liver pills. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills. Look for the name Carter's Little Liver Pills on the red label. Resent a substitute. 25c at all stores. © 1931 C. M. Co.

Step-Son Files Protest Of Will

Eben George Russ, Washington, D. C., Not Satisfied With $200,- 000 Estate

CONTENDS ESTATE
IS WORTH MILLION

(International News Service)
RIDGEWAY, Pa., Feb. 4.—The story of how the late Mrs. Clara H.
Russ, of St. Marys, built up a $200,- 000 estate until it is now valued at more than $1,000,000 was told today as a step-son, Eben George Russ, of Washington, D. C., sought to break her will.

In a hearing before Judge E. H.
Baird, it was revealed Russ was left $200,000 of the estate. However, he maintained the will of his father,
I. R. Eben J. Russ, bequeathed the $200,000 Russ estate to Mrs. Russ with the provision that at her death whatever remained was to go to his son.

The Russ estate was valued at $200,000 at the death of Dr. Russ.
When Mrs. Russ died it was said to be worth more than $1,000,000, he claimed.

She willed $200,000, the original amount of the estate, to her stepson and the balance was left to 62 individuals and charitable institutions.

Arguments To Be Heard On Petition Of Miss Jane Ligo
And Others

Argument on a recent motion of Miss Jane Ligo for a review of the distribution of money under the will of the late Nellie M. Dean, will be heard on February 22, according to an order of court made today.

Heirs affected by the petition this morning filed an agreement and stipulation as to what matters are to be taken up at the hearing. One of the stipulations is that the proceedings shall not be prejudicial to the appeal of Thomas Goodman, in the supreme court, or prejudicial to any others who may wish to appeal.

Mrs. Zoe Leedy, widow of U. G.
Leedy, has filed a petition for the re-opening of the audit, in order that her son, Eugene, may make proof of claim.

In the will of Mrs. Dean $500 each was left to the children of U. G.
Leedy. There are four children. A local trust company was made guardian for Mary, Edwin and Dorothy Leedy, and their claims were presented, but it appears that the claim of Eugene was not presented.

Miss Ligo is asking that her claim be paid in full, before any of the other heirs, get their share of the cash for distribution.

McMillin Farm Has New Owner

Martin Gumulak Purchases Valuable Property On The Harlansburg Road

Martin Gumulak of Pittsburgh has purchased the farm of former City Treasurer, C. L. Millin, about four miles from this city on the Harlansburg road. The farm was sold yesterday by Thomas Hartman and the Lawrence Savings and Trust Co.
trustees of the late George W.
Johnston estate. They came into possession of the farm through foreclosure proceedings on a mortgage held by Johnston.

The farm consists of 100 acres, lying partly in Hickory and partly in Scott township. After McMillin purchased it he erected a new house and a new barn. Later an airport was located on the farm. In order to make the airport, the trees in a valuable orchard were dynamited and torn out.

It is understood that Martin Gu-mulak, the new owner will occupy the farm, which is one of the best in the county.

Getting Up Tax Books For 1932

Treasurer Must Have Duplicate
By May 1st If Card System Is Used

Employees of the county commissioners' office are busy writing up the tax books for 1932. Owing to the fact that County Treasurer William O. Pitts is expecting to send out tax statements on cards this year it is necessary to have the duplicates in his hands by May 1st.
No official action has yet been taken by the county commissioners on the proposal of Mr. Pitts to send out tax statements, but it is expected that the matter will be taken up at an early date.

Mailing of tax statements has been advocated for several years, but has always been deferred on account of the expense involved. Its advocates believe, however, that the convenience to the taxpayers would compensate for the expense. The only way the taxpayer has of knowing what his taxes are under the present system is by going to the treasurers' office, telephoning or writing.

It is claimed by the advocates of the tax card system that taxpayers would find the cards a convenience, as they could write and mail checks without going to any trouble to find out the amount due.

Nine Being Held In Jail Due To Death Of Miner

Eight Former Deputy Sheriffs And Former Mine Official Held At Uniontown

MINER KILLED AS RESULT OF TROUBLE

(International News Service)
UNIONTOWN, Pa., Feb. 4.—Eight former deputy sheriffs and an ex-superintendent of the Pittsburgh Coal Company were held in jail today, all efforts to secure their release on bail in connection with the slaying of Mike Pilopovich during the fatal Arnold City mine riot last June 23 having failed.

Judge Davis W. Henderson, after a habeas corpus hearing, declared testimony of eye-witnesses was sufficient to hold them in jail without bail pending court trials. John B. Yoder, coal and iron policeman, was pointed out by three witnesses as the man who shot Pilopovich, but the other eight were accused of acting in concert.

Attorney Ross S. Matthews was granted permission to file a brief after which a final decision on the habeas corpus hearing will be made by the court.

Three eye-witnesses, who had not been called at the coroner's inquest into the slaying, declared positively that Yoder had fired the shots which killed Pilopovich as he stood on the porch of his home. The witnesses were miners on a truck being guarded by the deputy sheriffs and coal and iron policemen.

They declared not a single shot was fired by the striking miners assembled in front of Pilopovich's store.

Forests Attract Increased Number

Many Newcomers Visit State
Recreational Centers
Last Year

HARRISBURG, Feb. 4.—Visitors to the forest parks, public camps and other recreational areas in the state forests of Pennsylvania last year numbered nearly one and one-half million. According to Lewis E. Staley, secretary of the department of forests and waters, this represents an increase of visitors over the previous year.

The increased popularity of the 70 state forest recreational areas scattered throughout Pennsylvania is considered by state forestry officials as a public endorsement of the state park and public camp system. One reason, cited by Secretary Staley, for the great increase in the recreational use of the state forests by citizens is the very definite back-to-nature movement, apparently now a fixed feature in the life of our nation. Not only does the urge to get into the woods benefit citizens owing to the health giving environment they find, but there are also distinct benefits which accrue from tourist trade.

Relatives of the dead flier at Galveston, Texas, have been notified.

PARKED CAR GEARS SHOULD BE NEUTRAL

HARRISBURG, Feb. 4.—Motor vehicle operators who leave their gears engaged when parked are courting a serious accident to themselves or others, Benjamin G. Eynon, Commissioner of Motor Vehicles, said today. A number of grave accidents due to failure to disengage gears when stopped have recently been reported to the Bureau of Motor Vehicles.

This is a careless and dangerous habit," Commissioner Eynon said. "No car should be left standing in gear. It is too easy when starting to forget that the gears have been left engaged. The safest plan to follow is to disengage the gears when parked. Operators involved in this type of accident will be severely dealt with when they appear for a hearing before officials of this bureau."

Where English Felons Rioted

Here is a part of the mess hall at Dartmoor Prison, England, a penitentiary for second offenders and hardened criminals, where riots, similar to those that occurred in the United States last year broke out recently—because the malefactors incarcerated there didn't get enough sugar for their porridge. About 100 convicts were wounded in the attempt to scale the high walls. When repulsed by guards, the prisoners set fire to some of the prison buildings. Two convicts were killed, but none succeeded in getting outside the prison.

Senator Davis Is Now Allied With Senate Wet Bloc

Former Secretary Of Labor
Awaits Reaction In Pennsylvania To Announcement

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, Feb. 4.—Having leaped the prohibition fence overnight, Senator James J. Davis (R) of Pennsylvania today lined up with the wet bloc in the senate.

The erstwhile Secretary of Labor anxiously awaited the Pennsylvania reaction to his statement forsaking his former dry stand in favor of prohibition repeal and the return of light wines and beer.

The Davis statement was made in response to an ultimatum from the powerful Vane machine in Philadelphia and in the face of a wet movement to enter Rep. Beck, an uncompromising wet, in the Republican senatorial primary of Pennsylvania next spring.

The wet stand taken by Davis is identical with that announced by the late Senator Morrow (R) of New Jersey.

COUNTIES SPONSOR SPRING FIELD DAY

HARRISBURG, Feb. 4.—A recent study made by the department of public instruction shows that 31 counties sponsor a spring field day. These field days are under the supervision of the county superintendent and his staff. The competition offered is largely of an athletic nature, although many counties have competition in scholastic events as well. Preliminary contests are held in many of the school districts to determine who shall represent the district at the field day.

The athletic events include the short dashes, longer runs, various types of jumping, chinning the bar, baseball and basketball throwing for accuracy and distance, and relay races. Special events include marble tournaments, athletic badge tests, Boy Scout tests, Maypole dances and group games.

Allots $125,000

More To Fund For Purchase Of Land

Increase In Hunting Licenses
Results In Allocating Funds

HARRISBURG, Feb. 4.—Due to a large increase in the sale of hunting licenses last fall, the Board of Game Commissioners has been able to furnish its extensive land purchase program by allocating $125,000 of this extra revenue for the purchase of State Game lands. The action will increase the present fiscal year's allotments for lands to about $325,000.

Since 1927 when the Legislature authorized the setting aside of 75 cents from each hunter's license for the purchase and maintenance of additional State Game lands the Game Commission has extended every effort towards acquiring suitable areas to be used as Game Refuges and public shooting grounds. Considerable headway has been made during the past few years with the Commission's $200,000 a year land purchase program. During 1931 a total of 82,667 acres was added bringing the total holdings to 298,819 acres situated in thirty three counties. The largest blocks are in Elk, Jefferson, Sullivan and Bradford counties.

The Commission expects to use some of the recently appropriated revenue to purchase additional lands in small game territory just as rapidly as such areas become available.

District Mingle In Social Hour

About seven hundred members of the various Methodist churches of the New Castle district assembled Wednesday evening in the First Methodist church at a fellowship meeting sponsored by the Methodist Episcopal Union, an organization which aids the smaller churches.

Dr. C. G. Farr, district superintendent was the presiding officer, and a splendid program was presented, with many selections by the large chorus choir, which filled the choir loft of the church; the orchestra of thirty pieces added their bit to the enjoyment of the event.

The invocation was asked by Rev. W. H. Downing, pastor of the Mahoningtown Methodist church.

Mrs. Leo McKay of Sharon, sang a beautiful solo number and David Hopkins and his harp pleased the large audience.

Rev. Roscoe L. Foulke of Youngstown, Ohio, was the guest speaker and he told of the splendid work of the union in establishing churches in districts where no church exists, in aiding the mission churches, and in promoting the spread of Christianity. At the close of his address an offering was lifted and a goodly sum was realized for the furthering of the work. Rev. C. S. Joshua of the Croton church pronounced the benediction.

A period of getting acquainted followed, the programs and refreshments were served.

STATE MAY NOT PLAY PAWNBROKER

HARRISBURG, Feb. 4.—Watches, rings or other pieces of jewelry will not be accepted as pledges for payment of the $2 fee for motor vehicle operators' licenses, the Department of Revenue announces.

"Recently we have had a number of applicants for 1932 operators' licenses offer their watches as security for payment of the $2 fee until such time as they have the cash," Benjamin G. Eynon, Commissioner of Motor Vehicle, said today. "While the Department likes to accommodate residents of the State, we cannot accept collateral of any sort. Only checks, post office money orders, or money will be accepted."

Operators now have little less than a month in which to secure their driving permits for 1932. All 1931 permits are invalid after midnight, February 29. Driving permits for this year may be used on and after February 15,

MONEY

to pay all bills and make a new start

IT'S a wonderful thing to make a fresh start free from debt worries. No need to worry about all those unpaid bills. You can pay them with a Household loan, and take up to 20 months to repay us.

Household's nationally famous low charge on loans above $100 up to $300 is considerably less than the maximum rate provided by the Small Loan Laws of this state. It is figured only on the balance due and for the actual number of days you keep the loan. There are no extra charges and you get all that you borrow at the start.

Strictly between husband and wife and Household

No embarrassing investigations are made among employer, merchants, landlord, or friends. Only husband and wife are asked to sign. You can be sure of confidential, dignified service here. Over 350,000 other families prefer Household, and we believe you will, too.

It will pay you to learn about the Household Loan Plan, if you need money. Your questions will be answered courteously, without obligating you to borrow. Phone, write, or come in.

Jail Again Minus Women Prisoners

With the removal of Harriet Dunn from the County Jail to the New Castle hospital, for the purpose of undergoing an operation, the county jail is again without a female inmate. There are at present 48 prisoners in jail, according to Deputy Sheriff Russell McBride. Most of them are serving short time sentences. Few women have been inmates of the jail for some time, which is taken as an indication that the women are growing better and better every day.

The oldest legal fraternity in existence is Phi Delta Phi, which was founded at the University of Michigan, in 1869.

To Break Up a Cold In a Jiffy

Feel Like a New Person
In Just a Little While

People have found out that new-fangled ideas and notions don't break up colds. So millions have turned back to first principles and use what they know breaks one up in a jiffy. Even a "little" cold is too dangerous to trifle with.

The thing to do is to get Hill's Cascara Quinine at any drug store. Take two tablets now. Then follow directions on box. Drink lots of water, too—that's all.

Soon you'll start to feel like a new person. Things will loosen up, your head will clear; aching go—you'll be back on the job with a wallop.

Get Hill's now. It is a scientific formula made to do one thing well: to knock a cold—not to cure a thousand ailments. Get your money back if it doesn't work with twice the speed of anything else you've ever tried.

HILL'S Cascara Quinine Compound

LOOKING BACK

IN NEW CASTLE

Among the sturdy citizens of the city during the past third of a century and of Lawrence county for many years to come, here was John S. Martin. He was born in Mercer county, January 30, 1847. He came to Lawrence county in 1861 with his parents, who located in Mahoning township near Hillsville, when but fourteen years of age. He completed his education in the schools of Hillsville. For many years following, he engaged in agricultural pursuits and fourteen years, he acted as superintendent of the George W. Johnson Limestone company at Hillsville. He was active in all that concerned the welfare and progress of his community and was his party's choice for various offices. In 1873, he was elected constable and tax collector on the Republican ticket and served as such for nine consecutive years. In 1898, he moved to New Castle. He continued to be interested in agriculture but did not pay close attention to it. He was a member of the First Baptist church and a member of its board of trustees for many years.

BOY SCOUTS

To Go To Butler

A treat that seldom is offered Scouters will be afforded New Castle's new Scout patrol, the "Lawrence," when it journeys to Butler on Tuesday evening, February 9 to hear Scoutmaster Paul Siple, Boy Scout pal of Rear Admiral Richard E. Byrd, and Commander McKee of the United States Navy. Siple and McKee are to be the guests of the Butler Scouts, and the locals have been extended an invitation to attend.

Scout Executive Herbert Horton expects that several auto loads of scouts will make the trip to hear the two. What message they will bring probably be of practical use to New Castle's amateur seamen and educational insofar as the ways of life on the high seas is concerned.

Elks' Boys Meet

Scoutmaster Gordon Cartwright again was at the helm when Troop 5's boys met in the Elks club basement, the institution which sponsors them, for another meeting. Assistant Scoutmasters Sandy Howard and Harry Brown and Senior Patrol Leader Bill Fair helped in the program.

Newly appointed troop committeemen who will serve the troop this year are Ed J. Ryan, Karl Kuechler and Charles T. Hughes. Ryan and Kuechler were present at the meeting. Visitors were Dale Rakestraw and Bun Lutz.

Before closing, some time was spent in the troop's cubbing program.

It's Worth Knowing

That while only 14 out of every 100 students who graduate from high school ever enter college, about 50 percent of all the student bodies in colleges and universities in this country, are former scouts.

Dear Mr. Rentz:

At a special meeting of the New Castle Ministerial Association, held yesterday, all the members present expressed their sincere appreciation of the action you took when you de-

MAN GRABS WOMAN'S

POCKETBOOK; POLICE

UNABLE TO FIND HIM

Mrs. Harry Shoaff, 233 West Moody avenue, reported to the police Wednesday that as she was on North Jefferson street south of Wallace avenue, an unknown man grabbed her pocketbook and made his getaway. It contained $1.30 in cash and some other things of value to Mrs. Shoaff.

The police were notified and Officers Thomas Lynch and John Moore made the investigation, but were unable to locate the man.

The holdup man is reported by Mrs. Shoaff to be between 35 and 40 years of age and wearing a brown slouch hat and long black overcoat.

Rose Allen On Witness Stand But Short Time

Society Debutante Not Severely Questioned By Prosecution, In Allen Case

TELLS OF THREAT MADE BY BROTHER

(International News Service)
NORRISTOWN, Pa., Feb. 4.—Rose Allen took the witness stand Wednesday in her brother's trial for the murder of her fiancé.

"Hello Eddie!" she murmured as she passed the counsel table where Edward H. B. Allen, the defendant, sat gripping the edge of the table tensely.

As pale as death with the same purplish shadows around her eyes as encircle her brother's, she answered District Attorney Nase's questions in a flat, resigned voice.

She said she was engaged to Francis A. Donaldson, 3d, before his death.

Rose added that when she and "Skinny" Donaldson were engaged, they exchanged pins. Then she began the recitation of events of November 9.

"Edward came into my bedroom at 5 o'clock and told me Francis was not to come into the house any more. If he did, Edward said he would blow his head off."

Edward said his sister could not use the family automobile that night to leave the house—and he locked it, taking the key himself, she declared.

So Rose packed 3 bags and ate her dinner in the kitchen with the maid.

Then the District Attorney exploded a bombshell by rising to say: "That's all." Everyone had expected questions as to the girl's relations with Donaldson.

Before cross-examination could begin, Judge Harold G. Knight called a recess.

Fletcher W. Stiles, defense counsel, said he was pleased with the testimony of the girl.

Corridors of the courthouse were jammed with curiosity-seekers to-day who knew they had not a chance of entering the room where a society debutante was scheduled to tell the secrets of her private life.

Hot Mills And Specialty Start Half With Wins

League Leaders Swamp Office 36-13; Specialty Has Close Call With Mechanics

ELLWOOD CITY, Feb. 4.—According to early indications in the Shelby basketball league, the Hot Mills and Specialty will have to fight it out for the lead in the second half.

Last night the former swamped the Office 36-13 to continue its realization of a perfect season. The Specialty had a very close call at the hands of the Mechanics whom they nosed out by a 21-18 score.

In the first game the Hot Mills took an early lead which they maintained throughout the entire game. The work of Dicky Freidhoff was the highlight of the game. He alone caged six baskets. The Hot Mills lead 9-3 in the first quarter and then widened this by 15-4 at the half. They continued their scoring jaunt in the ensuing stanza when they garnered 9 more points to five for the Mechanics, to make the score 24-9 at the end of the period. They added 12 more points in the closing stanza to 4 for their opponents. The final score was 36-13 for the champions.

The Mechanics were in dead earnest to defeat the Specialty in the second game. They continually pressed the title challengers until the final whistle. The Specialty managed to lead by a small margin at the end of each period. Boone got two baskets and Patterson and Aiello a foul apiece in the initial stanza. Ferucci and Stasick each got a basket in this period to make the score 6-4 for the Specialty. Matters became more interesting in the second quarter as each team strived desperately to obtain the lead. The ex-champs were in front 12-9 at the half way mark. The game narrowed down to one basket by the end of the third period when the Specialty players enjoyed a 15-13 lead. The final quarter was one of real excitement. Ferucci made a foul to place his team mates one point behind their opponents. The crowd was on its feet when Ray Labate sent the sphere through the hoops from mid-floor to place the Mechanics ahead. This was short lived as Boone sunk a free throw to deadlock the score at 16 all. Another foul by Walt Summers placed the Specialty in front again. Labate again came to the fore for the Mechanics with a good one hand shot near the basket to give them an 18-17 lead. In the dying moments of the game, all hope was lost when Patterson and Summers made a basket in rapid succession to clinch the game for the Specialty. The final score was 21-18.

Patman Claims Mellon Running Out On Charges

Rep. Patman, Texas, Says Mellon Is Running Away From Impeachment

(International News Service) WASHINGTON, Feb. 4.—Secretary of the Treasury Mellon "retreated under fire" in accepting appointment as Ambassador to Great Britain, Rep. Wright Patman (D) of Texas, who preferred impeachment charged against Mellon, said today.

The impeachment case, now being studied by the house judiciary committee, will become a dead issue if he is confirmed by the senate, Patman added.

Equal To Pardon
"Mr. Mellon's appointment is equal to a pardon being granted while the jury is out," said Patman. "He retreated under fire which is typical of the Harding appointees."

"There is no question but that the impeachment charges against Mr. Mellon caused his resignation. The president did not think the country could get over the shock of exposure of Mr. Mellon's business activities while Secretary of the Treasury and I admit it would be serious."

Is Congratulated
"Mr. Mellon is unquestionably being sent to London to arrange for cancellation of the war debts Europe owes the United States."

"It will, however, give him opportunity to make more trades beneficial to his companies similar to the Barco Oil deal."

Patman proudly displayed a telegram from the American Legion Post at Minola, Tex., congratulating him on "getting Mr. Mellon out of the cabinet."

Erie Banker Is Given Sentence Of Three Years

Three Years In Federal Reformatory For Former Marine Bank Official

PLEADED GUILTY TO TAKING $50,000

(International News Service) PITTSBURGH, Feb. 4.—George A. Gibson, of Erie, former official of the Marine National Bank at Erie, today was sentenced to serve three years in the federal reformatory at Petersburg, Va., when he pleaded guilty to misapplication and embezzlement of $50,000 of the bank's funds.

C. Arthur Bloss, former district attorney of Erie county, told Judge F. P. Schoonmaker, who sentenced Gibson, the bank official had admitted the defalcations before the loss was discovered by federal bank examiners.

Clemency Asked
He also read letters from Mayor James B. Rossiter, of Erie, State Senator Miles B. Kitts, and Paul Wright, former state secretary of highways asking judicial consideration for Gibson's good record in the past.

Judge Schoonmaker heard the testimony of federal bank examiners who testified misapplication and embezzlement of funds by Gibson totaled $50,000.

Tax Increase Sorely Needed

New Tax Increase Must Contain Excise Or Sales Tax To Make Up Amount Needed

INCOMES HAVE BEEN SHRINKING

(International News Service) WASHINGTON, Feb. 4.—The new tax increase must contain excise or sales taxes to make up from one-half to two-thirds of the amount needed in the budget-balancing campaign, Rep. Crisp (D) of Georgia, acting chairman of the house ways and means committee, estimated today.

With the committee tentatively planning to raise about $900,000,000 in additional taxes, the excess levies would range from $450,000,000 to $600,000,000.

Incomes Shrink.
Shrinkage in incomes has forced the committee to change its plans in making up new tax levies. Despite proposed radical increases in the tax on big incomes, the taxes raised will fall far short of meeting the government's needs.

Crisp said, He estimated that $200,000,000 to $300,000,000 will be lopped off appropriations by a congress bent on economy.

The ways and means committee planned to conclude its tax hearings today after giving members of congress a chance to present pleas for a tax on foreign oil.

Laughs It Off

Psychologists and medical authorities of Bologna, Italy, are all worked up over the case of little Leonardo Cavalli, who reverses the usual order of things in giving expression to his emotions. When very happy, Leonardo shows it by bursting into tears. On the other hand, when he is scolded or corrected with a switch, he laughs long and loudly.

The annual Mercer Presbytery Y. P. C. U. banquet will be held in the New Wilmington U. P. church Monday evening February 8, at seven o'clock.

Vanishing Americans
46—A Warning

IN MAY, 1763, PONTIAC WAS READY FOR HIS GREAT SURPRISE ATTACK ON THE ENGLISH POSTS. HE HIMSELF WAS TO STRIKE THE BLOW AT DETROIT. AS A SUPPOSED FRIEND HE HAD FREE ACCESS TO THE FORT AND NO DETAIL OF THE DEFENSES HAD ESCAPED HIS EAGLE EYE.

© 1931, BY J. CARROLL MANSFIELD.

FOR MANY DAYS THE INDIANS MADE SECRET PREPARATIONS FOR THE COUP. WHITE TRADERS NOTICED SOME OF THE REDSKINS SAWING OFF THE BARRELS OF THEIR RIFLES, BUT ATTACHED NO IMPORTANCE TO THIS UNUSUAL PROCEDURE.

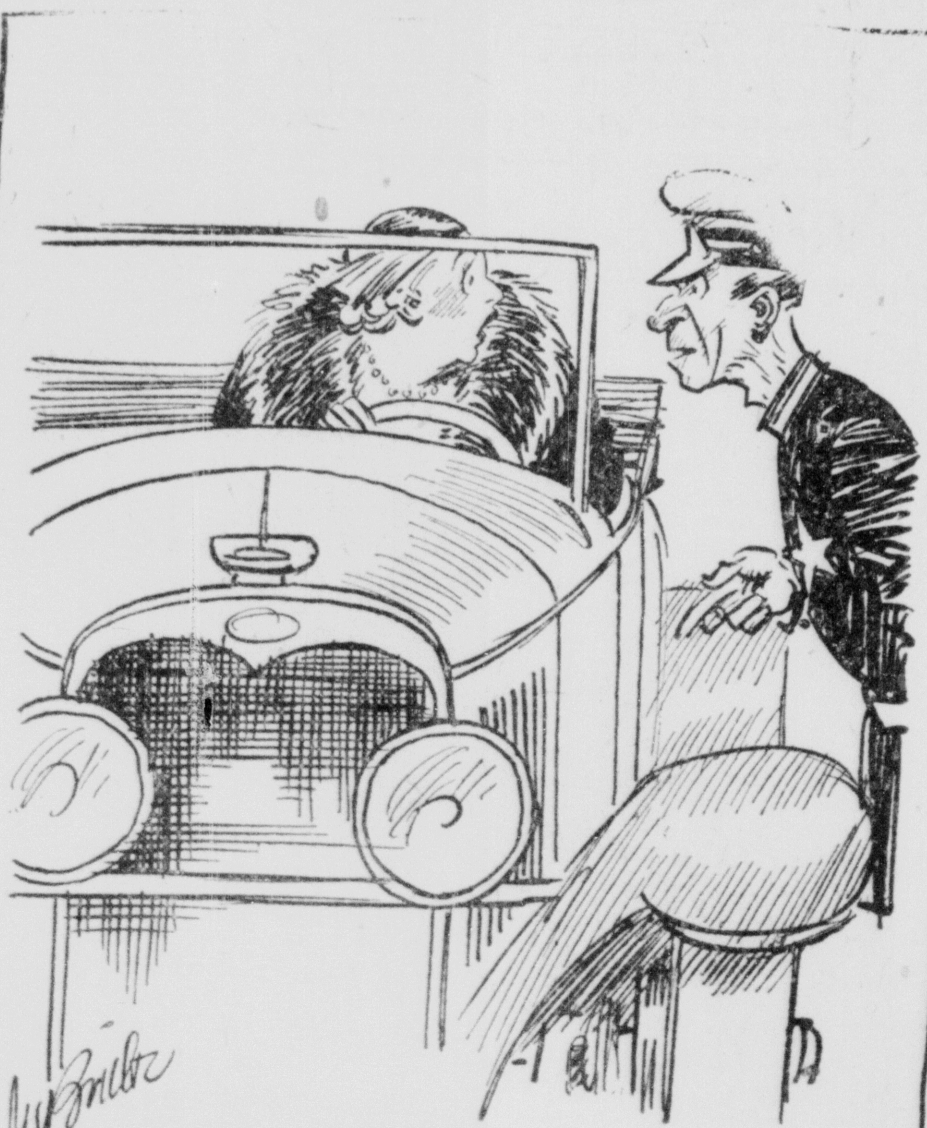

THE GARRISON OF DETROIT OWED THEIR LIVES TO THE WARNING OF A BEAUTIFUL OJIBWAY MAIDEN THAT WAS SAID TO HAVE BEEN IN LOVE WITH MAJOR GLADWYN AND WHO DIVULGED FULL DETAILS OF THE PLOT. —

THE NEXT DAY PONTIAC WAS COMING TO THE FORT FOR AN APPOINTED CONFERENCE WITH THE COMMANDANT. HE WOULD BRING WITH HIM MANY WARRIORS, EACH WITH A SAWED-OFF RIFLE CONCEALED UNDER HIS BLANKET. DURING THE SPEECHMAKING PONTIAC WAS TO GIVE A SIGNAL, WHEREUPON HIS BRAVES WERE TO BEGIN SHOOTING THE SOLDIERS AND OPEN THE GATES TO ADMIT HUNDREDS OF SAVAGES HIDING IN THE FOREST.

YOU KNOW THE TYPE

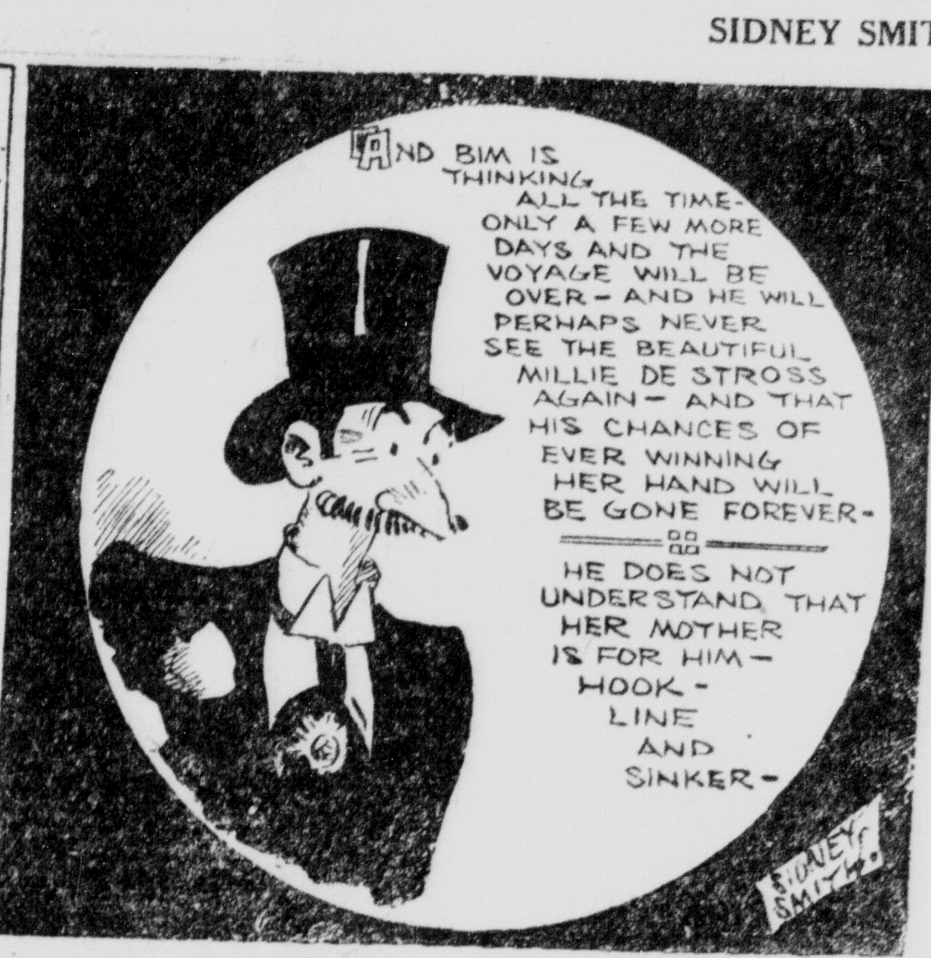

"Why, officer, you shouldn't arrest me! I left my glasses at home. That's why I couldn't see the red light."

NEW YORK STOCKS

Some Stocks Show An Upward Trend

(International News Service)
NEW YORK, Feb. 4.—Stocks started today's session at a slight handicap and gradually recovered their lost ground. Professional selling at the outset accounted for the opening losses which ranged from a small fraction to a point in United States Steel. The rails were again sluggish and dull, with little or no demand for stock and only scattering offerings below Wednesday's final prices.

United States Steel started the day a point lower, at 39½, but rallied to 40½ in the second period. The utility stocks were also in an upward trend as the forenoon advanced. Coppers slumped off as price of the Red Metal was further reduced to 6½ cents by the custom smelters, with second hands offered as low as 6 cents. Copper producers are still out of the market and the foreign price holds steady at 6½ cents a pound.

Listless and featureless trading characterized all sections of the market near the noon hour.

Healthy Cows; Pasteurization Prevent Disease

Treatment Of Milk Makes Disease Producing Organism Harmless, It Is Shown

ANIMALS SHOULD BE CLEAN ALSO

(Special To The News)

HARRISBURG, Feb. 4.—"The consensus of opinion among authorities in the field of milk control agree in the statement that sound and healthy animals, together with efficient pasteurization, are the most effective measures to prevent milk-borne diseases," said W. J. Lewis, retiring President of the Pennsylvania Association of Dairy and Milk Inspectors at the annual meeting of that body.

"In fact, pasteurization, properly done, renders harmless all disease producing organism known to be transmitted through milk to man, and does not significantly alter the food value, or flavor of the milk so treated. Because of the fact that other public health measures are not of themselves completely protective, either singly or in combination, pasteurization control may be regarded as a necessary final public health safeguard for all general market milk supplies.

"However, even pasteurization is subject to the fallibility of its operators, and while officers should persistently emphasize that all milk may advantageously be pasteurized before it is consumed, either in a properly supervised commercial plant, or at home, this measure should not be considered as rendering unnecessary any other protective measures. Pasteurization should go hand in hand with all other essential public health measures, in order to insure a clean and safe milk supply.

"It has long been understood, and is being increasingly emphasized, that milk of an unsanitary quality, or a high bacterial content, can be made into a high grade, wholesome milk through the process of pasteurization. It has also been shown that milk of high bacterial content, even when pasteurized, is not a wholesome food for infant feeding. Pasteurization, therefore, is not a substitute for the clean and sanitary production of milk.

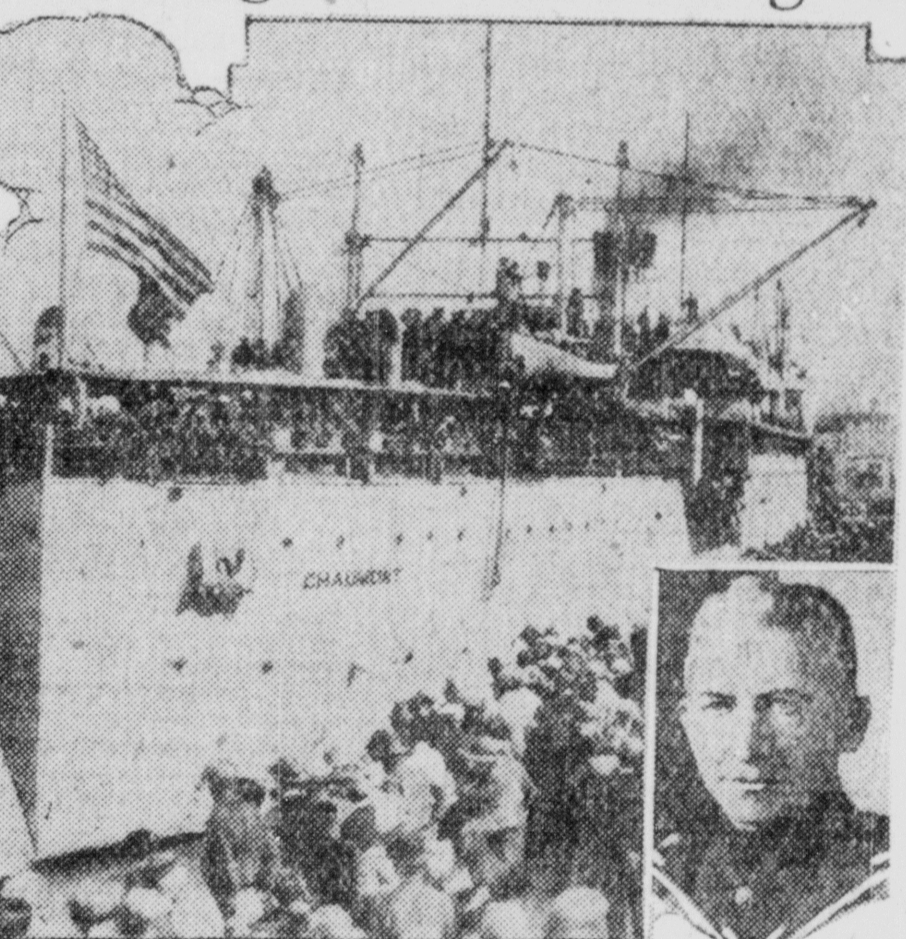

"Many milk producers in the State have joined with officials, in a cooperative effort to provide a clean and wholesome milk supply. Such efforts are most commendable and should be fostered wherever possible," concluded Mr. Lewis.

BANKED 40,000 PENNIES

(International News Service)

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo., Feb. 4.—Asa Forbes, local newspaper vendor, made so much money he had to use a wheelbarrow. Forbes recently appeared at a local bank with a wheelbarrow full of pennies. He wheeled it up to the teller's cage. Then he lifted three heavy baskets to the window and started counting the contents. There were 40,000 pennies.

U. S. Regulars for Shanghai

Following a conference held by President Hoover with the Cabinet and Army and Navy chiefs to consider the request of Consul General Edwin S. Cunningham for further protection for American citizens in Shanghai, the entire Asiatic fleet at Manila, P. I., was rushed to the storm center. In addition, the Thirty-first Regiment of the regular U. S. Army, under the command of Colonel Lorenzo Gassé (inset), and 600 additional marines have been ordered to the zone to protect American lives and property. Photo shows the Army Transport Chaumont, loaded with troops. A scene like this is even now being duplicated at Manila as troops are rushed to Shanghai. The Thirty-first Regiment is composed largely of World War veterans.

TAKES ADVANTAGE OF MILD WINTER

Taking advantage of unusually mild weather, Forest Baughman, Gahanna, O., farmer, has been crowding in some of his early spring plowing. He has turned over 13 acres of soil making it ready for planting of early Ohio potatoes. Low prices for farm commodities have not deterred this industrious fellow.

To Resume Welfare Work

Fully recovered from the effects of the major operation she underwent recently, Jane Addams (left), beloved social worker, founder of Hull House, Chicago, and co-winner with Nicholas Murray Butler of the 1931 Nobel Peace Prize, is shown as she left the Johns Hopkins Hospital at Baltimore, Md. With Miss Addams is Nurse Shortness, who is caring for Miss Addams, who, despite her 71 years, plans to continue her welfare work.

Putting on "Dog"

Apparently quite aware that he is the "cock of the walk," Furrier, champion Welsh foxhound, puts on his haughtiest demeanor as he poses with the trophy and blue ribbon he won at the Riding Club Hound Show, recently held in New York. The exhibition of blueblood hunting canines was held under the auspices of the Master of Foxhounds Association and the National Beagle Club.

Princely Critic

Declaring that if Soviet Russia's five-year plan turns out a success, America will not be benefited, Prince Theodore Romanoff (above) plays the American engineers who serve the Communists, designating them as "a disgrace to their country." Prince Romanoff is a son of Grand Duke Alexander of Russia and a relative of the late Czar Nicholas II. Photo was made in Los Angeles, where the Prince is vacationing.

Certificates Of Birth Sent Out By State

Handsone Little Document Is Now Furnished Parents Of Children

ASK INACCURACIES BE REPORTED SOON

(Special To The News)

HARRISBURG, Feb. 4.—The mother's notification service in the bureau of vital statistics, state department of health, is a work done for the United States census bureau. For the purpose of carrying forward this activity, Dr. Theodore B. Appel, secretary of health, has been designated as a special agent of the bureau of census of the United States, and the certificate bears his name, as well as the name of the director of the census at Washington, D. C.

This notification of birth registration is mailed to the mother of the child at as early a date as possible after the "record of birth" has been received in Harrisburg. It is an attractive certificate, bearing the date of the birth record, printed on a background that shows the United States capitol, thus combining in one paper the suggestion of both state and national registration, which is indeed true.

The importance of this little document is great. It gives the official and legal information concerning name, date of birth and sex, together with the name of the father and the maiden name of the mother. It also indicates the file number of the original certificate in Harrisburg, the use of which number will make the original registration certificate available for inspection, or certified copy, at any time.

It is usually preserved with deeds of property and other valuable papers in the home to which it comes, and is prima facie evidence of the truth of the statements made upon its face at any time or any place. Being prized highly, as indeed it should be, by the parents, its exhibition to neighboring mothers often locates an unregistered baby, who in turn has a registration certificate sent to Harrisburg, thus making more nearly perfect the records of the bureau of vital statistics.

In the event that the mother's notification shows inaccuracies, the parents are urged to send corrections to Dr. Appel at once, and steps will be taken to correct the official record both at Harrisburg and Washington.

There are hundreds of reasons why men continue to woo women—and one of these is habit.

At Shanghai Storm Center

No matter what particular brand of trouble may develop at Shanghai it is comforting to know that American lives and property are in the capable hands of the United States Marines, some of whom are shown above swinging through the international settlement. Colonel Richard S. Hooker (inset) is in command of the Fourth Regiment, which has been quartered in Shanghai since 1927 when Chiang Kai-Shek's nationalist forces threatened the city. In the event of a clash between Chinese and Japanese factions these boys can be depended upon to keep the "situation well in hand."
